People. . .
Have you taken the time
to learn from each other?
We all live in the same world—
or do we?
a student. . .
a policeman. . .
a child. . .
an old man. . .
two people in love. . .
They all have something in common—Starting today,
be aware. . .
Rejoice
in your own uniqueness,
yet search
for the things
that make us all alike.
"As different as we are,
we're still the same."

Communicate. . .
Learn to listen,
as well as to express.
It's hard to do—
I know.
So many barriers
have been set between us,
Break them down!
Laugh,
cry,
scream,
or be silent,
. . .only. . .
Let yourself go. . .
Don't be afraid,
Rip the wrapping
off of your soul,
Let everyone know,
"I'm alive!"
Reach out and touch people who are different from yourself.
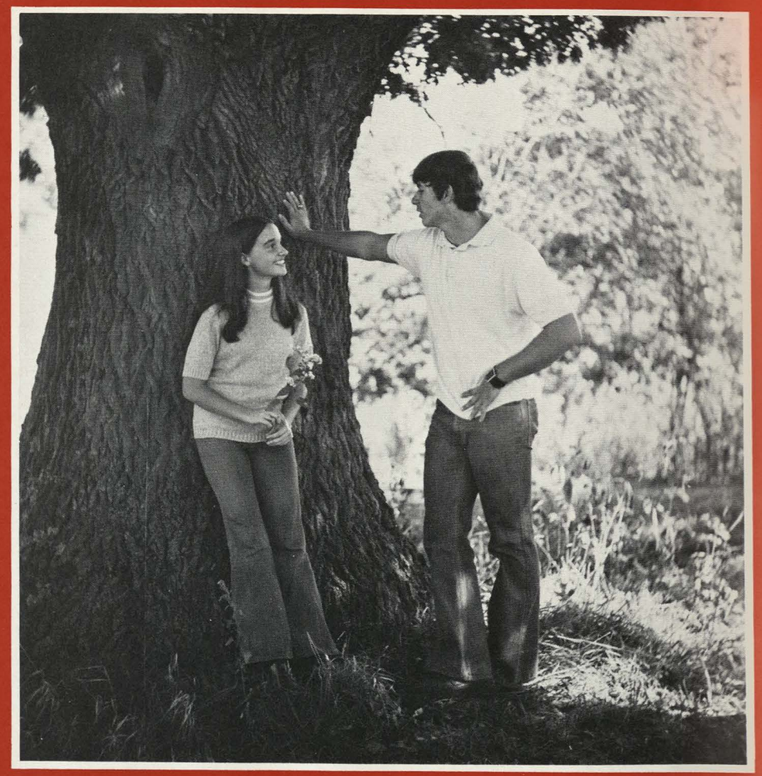
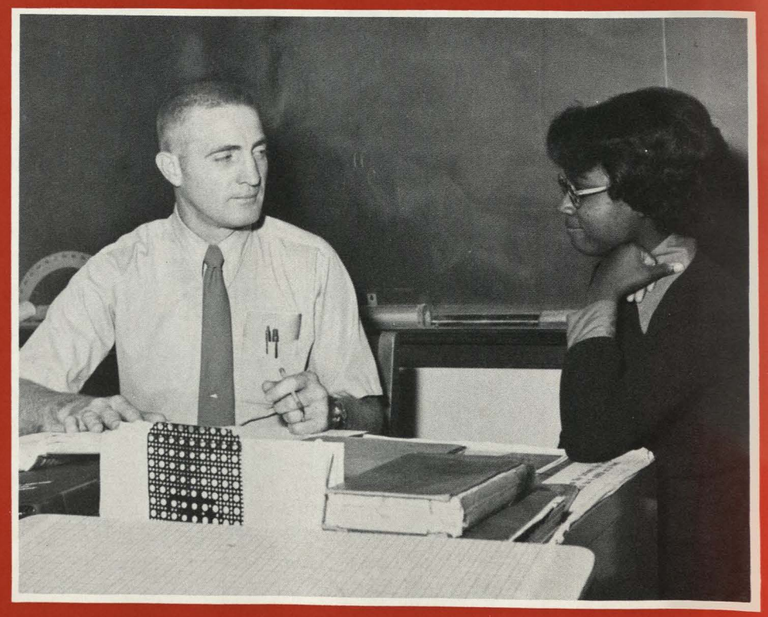
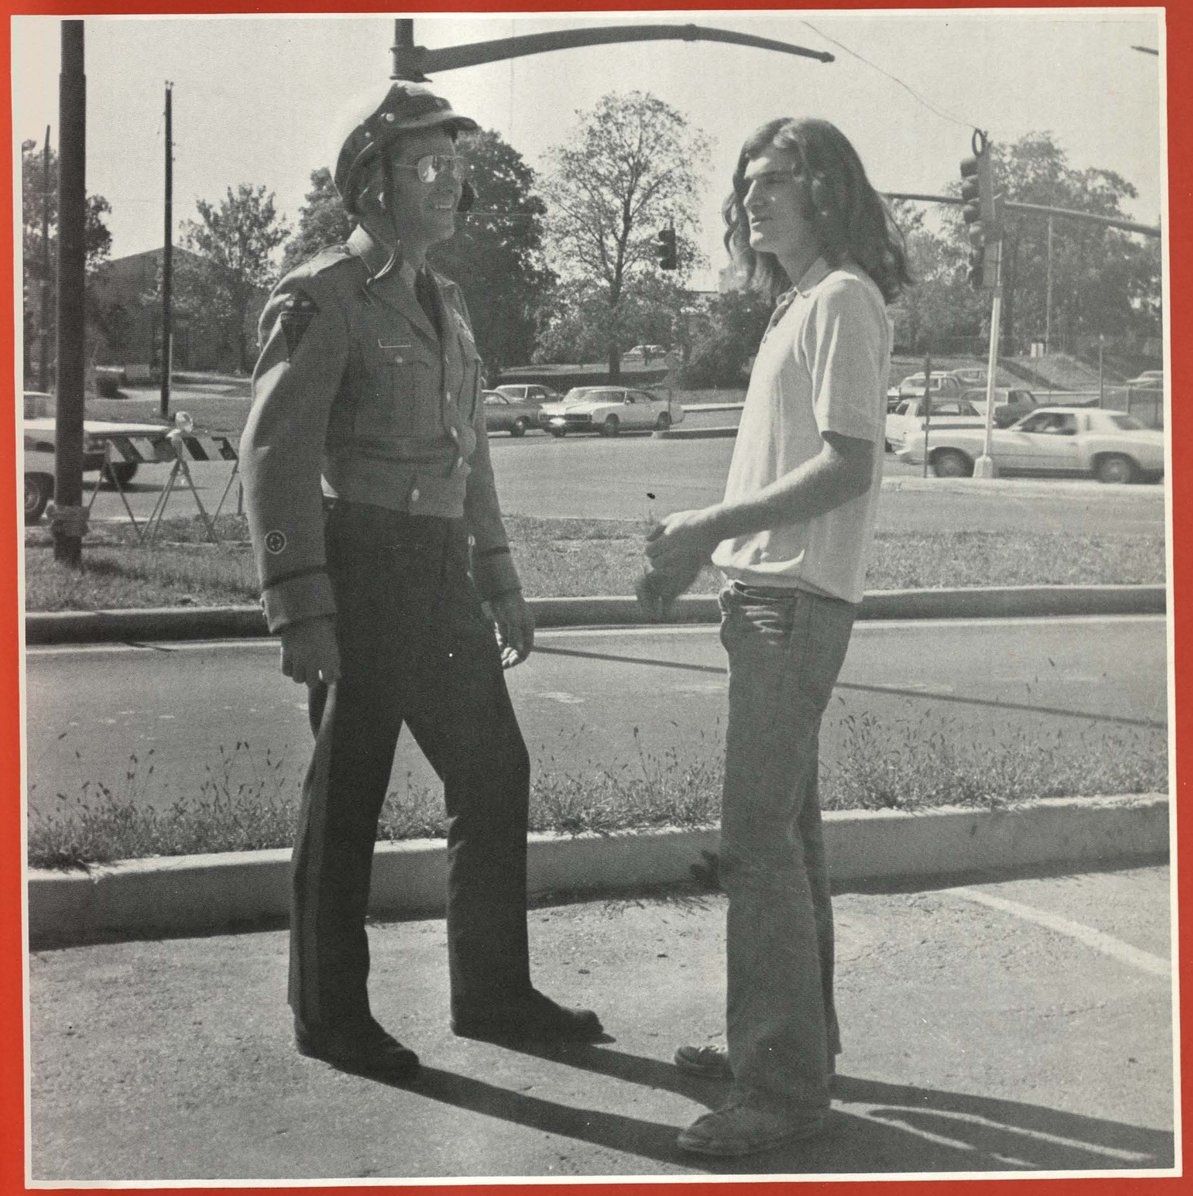
Go to someone
and explain how you feel.
Sort out the confusion,
through communication.







"As different as we are, we're still the same"

Children. . .
They see no prejudice,
unless they are taught to.
They refuse to feel the hatred
that surrounds them.
Wrapped up
in their own happy worlds,
they are unaware of pressure
or sadness.
To them,
happiness is a purple popsicle
I wish,
the whole world could be like that
I guess it's silly,
Yet. . .
Children
never started a war,
or got anyone killed,
Children, supposedly have so much to learn.
Maybe they're the only ones who don't need to be "educated".

By the time I reach eighty years old,
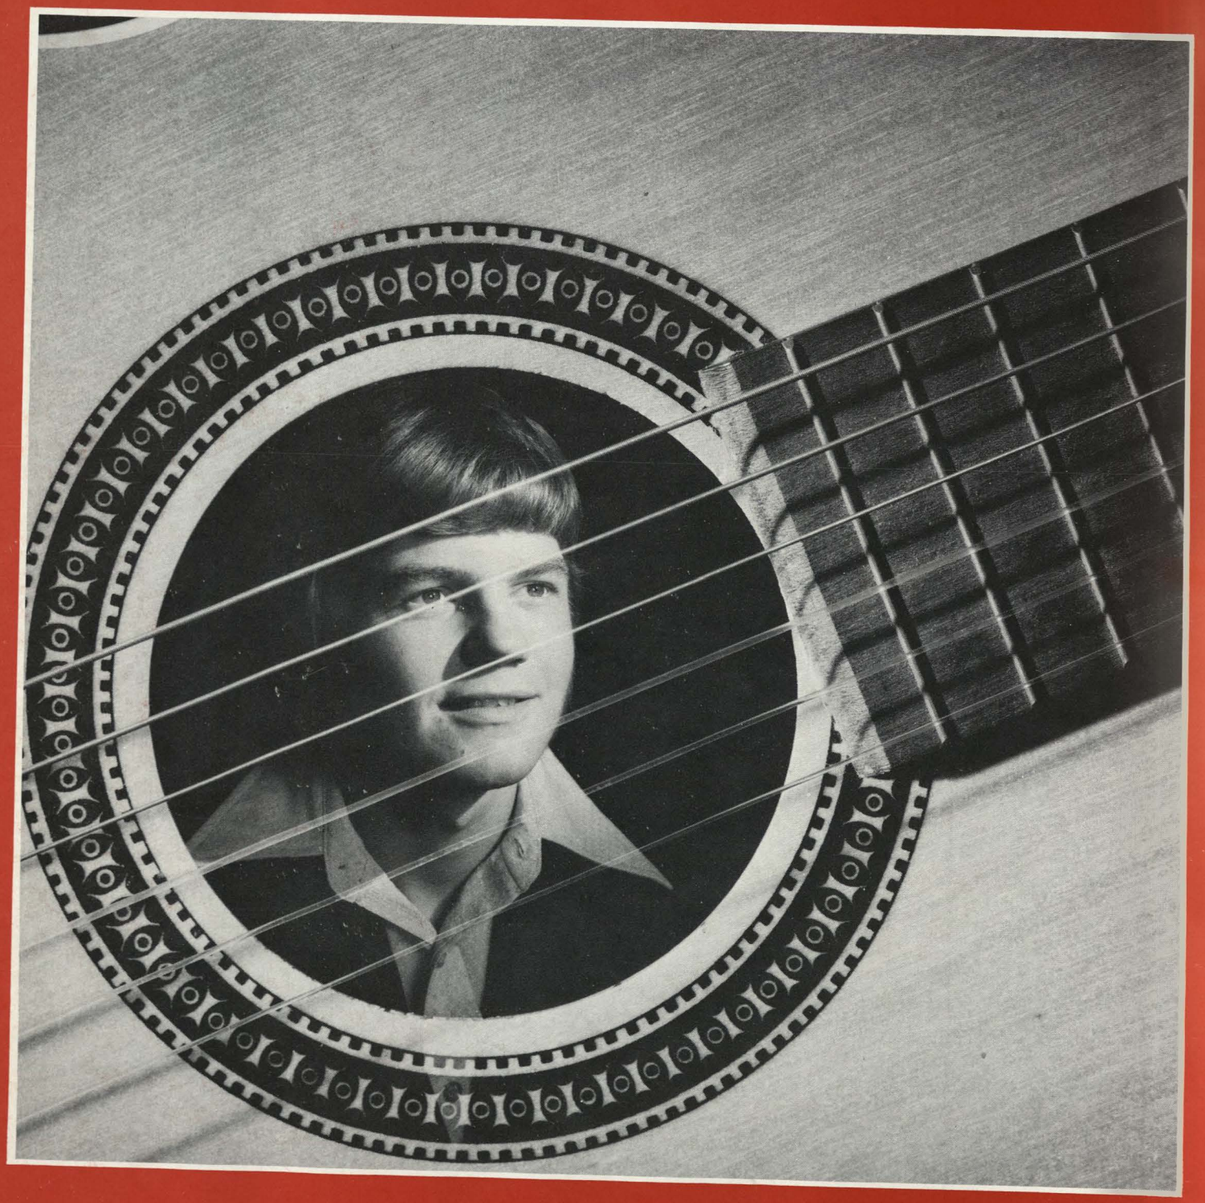
will I have accomplished
all the things I have planned?
Will I have,
done everything?
seen everything?
Impossible!
Yet. . .
I will have gained experience,
and the knowledge
that comes with time.
While I am still young,
I can learn
from those who are older.
They are so wise. . .
Don't let that wisdom
be pushed into a corner,
unused,
and unappreciated. . .



I'm only trying
to accept myself,
whatever I am. . .
Sometimes,
I feel caught in a trap,
between a carefree
childhood,
and the responsibilities
of adulthood.
Is it possible
to be carefree,
and responsible
at the same time?
My emotions
come in spurts,
All at once,
I feel—
sad. . .
hateful. . .
joyful. . .
peaceful. . .
angry. . .
Often,
I want to slip by others,
unnoticed.
Other times,
I want to leave a memory
on everyone I touch.
I want to leave
an impression on life.

The future. . .
it's built on the past,
and the present.
Time flies,
or creeps,
past me,
turning everything
to memories.
My memories will be full;
full of people I have known,
because people
are so very important.
In the end,
the differences
that separate men,
will be overshadowed
by the similarities
that connect them.
The future
holds hope because. . .
"As different as we are,
we're still the same."

After Hours. . .
my footsteps rustle
the fallen leaves on campus. . .
I enjoy the sereneness
of a silent Social Hall,
snow drifting past
the arched windows. . .
I smile
as my classmate
is crowned homecoming queen,
I sit in the darkened
auditorium,
feeling part of the characters in a play,
I yell myself hoarse,
cheering the swim team to victory,
I find time
to be with my friends
at the hangouts I enjoy. . .
Sharing a burrito at Taco Kid
after a freezing football game.
I cherish these moments. . .
My friends have taught me
the value of individuality
as well as the joy of being alike.

AFTER HOURS

The Quiet Times

In every heart and mind,
There is a time
When one must be alone.
A time when one must get away
To face the worlds unknown.
Away from the crowd,
Away from the hustle and bustle,
And even away
From each other sometimes.
One must be alone to think,
To reminisce fondly,
Or to remember with regret.
But, whatever the circumstances,
The time will come,
The time to be alone.

CAMPUS

Views of Wyandotte fascinate students and visitors with its different features. The campus is supplied with a football stadium, tennis court, baseball field, and track field. Behind the school is an area where students may get together to relax and talk after school. The building is accommodated with a large swimming pool, two gymnasiums, an 1800 seat capacity auditorium, and classroom space for 3,000 students.

(1) A view of the flagpole, from a third floor window, gives one the chance to see the summer quietness of the school. (2) The sidewalks leading up to the building of the back campus made a nice place for an autumn walk. (3) Snow covered tree branches highlight the scenery of the back campus with beautiful signs of winter. (4) The beauty of Wyandotte High School is noticed and admired by many who observe it.

Social Hall. . .
The reflections of mood in the Social Hall are as many and as varied as those coming from its windows.
The mood of Social Hall. . .is quiet. . .The stillness of Social Hall is the only place where one can be alone but never feel lonely. It is the perfect place for reflecting upon the events of the day gone by or for speculating on the events of the day about to begin. Social Hall provides the quiet needed for last minute study or for long peaceful daydreams. The spell, however, is periodically broken by a ringing class bell and a sudden surge of noisy students.
The mood of Social Hall. . .is alive. . .The before school buzzing and chattering of students, the ticket lines for games and plays and the congregating groups of friends making plans, bring Social Hall to life.
The mood of Social Hall. . .is pride. . .A pride is felt in the team returning to school defeated, but inspired by defeat to return next week as the victors. A feeling of overwhelming pride is felt also when looking into the crowded trophy cases of Social Hall, where Kay Cee posters hanging on the walls look down upon the students and proudly proclaim Wyandotte as Number One!
The mood of Social Hall. . .is tradition. . .Social Hall is a haven of Wyandotte traditions, old and new. Many of the traditions are as old as the dusty beams in the ceiling, but many new traditions also abound in Social Hall.
The many moods of Social Hall. . . remembered and treasured always.

SUMMER

Summer days sped past much too fast to allow most students to fulfill all of their vacation plans. Travelling, picnicking, swimming or just loafing were some of the summer activities enjoyed by Wyandotte's students.

Wow, we rode the Zambini Zinger seven times in a row!. . . Let's spend the whole afternoon at the pool today. . .My nose is so sunburned. . .Baseball is my favorite summer sport!. . . How do you like my new motorcycle?. . .Get a summer job? Are you crazy?

(1) Cheryl Barksdale and Dianne Taylor struggle playfully as they attempt to knock each other into the water while Renwick Jones and Anthony McGee hold them. (2) Taking time from their rides at Worlds of Fun, Joyce Mathis and Danny Waller buy balloons from Leslie Lea. (3) Practicing for a summer league game, Mark Harrison pitches to Lowell Ghosey. (4) Willie Combs and Larry Marcel find that a speedy ride on their motorcycles is the best way to cool off in the heat of the summer.

HANGOUTS

Wyandotte students gather at hangouts

to spend time with their friends after school and on the weekends.

Where are you going after the game Friday night?. . .Let's drive through Pete's just one more time before we go home. . .I have so much homework this weekend, do you want to go to the library with me on Saturday?. . .Let's go shoot some pool, man. . .What time do you have to be home tonight?... Guess what! I can get the car tomorrow night!. . .Anyone in the mood for tacos?

(1) At the KCQ Pool Hall, Curry Stephens aims for the corner pocket, as Greg Soptic concentrates on what his next move will be. (2) Ruthie Williams and Houston Williams finally find the album they have been looking for at an Indian Springs record shop. (3) The large globe at the public library helps to answer assignment questions for Juanita McCowen and Jane Farmer. (4) Brett Dawson and Dave Davis have a hard time trying to decide what to order at Pete's Drive-In, one afternoon after school.

Homework, bonfires mark autumn season

and the beginning of the school year. To occupy the student's school hours there was homework, but during their spare time, the season was filled with football games, parties, and bonfires. It must be 80 degrees in this classroom. . .Have you ever seen such a big bonfire in all your life?. . .The trees around the school are so pretty this time of year. . .They're not so pretty when you have to rake the leaves. . .I don't think the rain will ever end, do you?

(1) Pam Kukuk and Randy Wright spend a quiet evening together by a fireplace listening to albums. (2) Steve Squire rakes the leaves in his yard into one big pile to be burned later in the day. (3) Sam Schultz and Don Feltham discuss their class assignment, which is due first hour, before school. (4) On a rainy day, after school, students run to their buses to avoid getting wet.

HOMECOMING ROYALTY

Hawaiian Paradise royal court chosen to reign over the 1973-1974 Homecoming game and dance. Lynn Williams, Homecoming queen, was crowned during half time of the game, October 19. Lynn's royal court included, princesses Jerri McCloud and Lori Scott. The attendants were Kathy Wilson and Sabrina Brown.

Doesn't she look pretty?. . . I voted for her. . .I bet they're nervous, even I can't stand the suspense any longer. . . I couldn't decide who to vote for, could you?

HOMECOMING

Elaborate grandeur set the atmosphere for Homecoming excitement. The weekend included a football game Friday night and the dance Saturday night in the gym. Hawaiian Paradise was chosen as the 1973-1974 Homecoming theme and made a lavish setting for the semi-formal dance.

What are you going to wear, a long or a short dress?. . .I forgot to get the tickets. . . I'm so glad that it isn't raining. . .All of the floats are so clever. . .Who's your date for the dance?

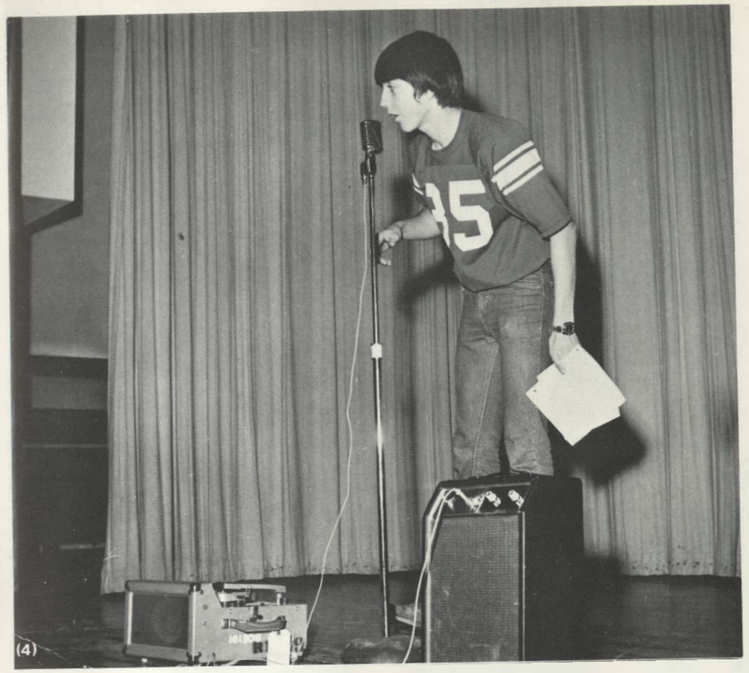
ASSEMBLIES

Sam Stone visited Wyandotte assembly

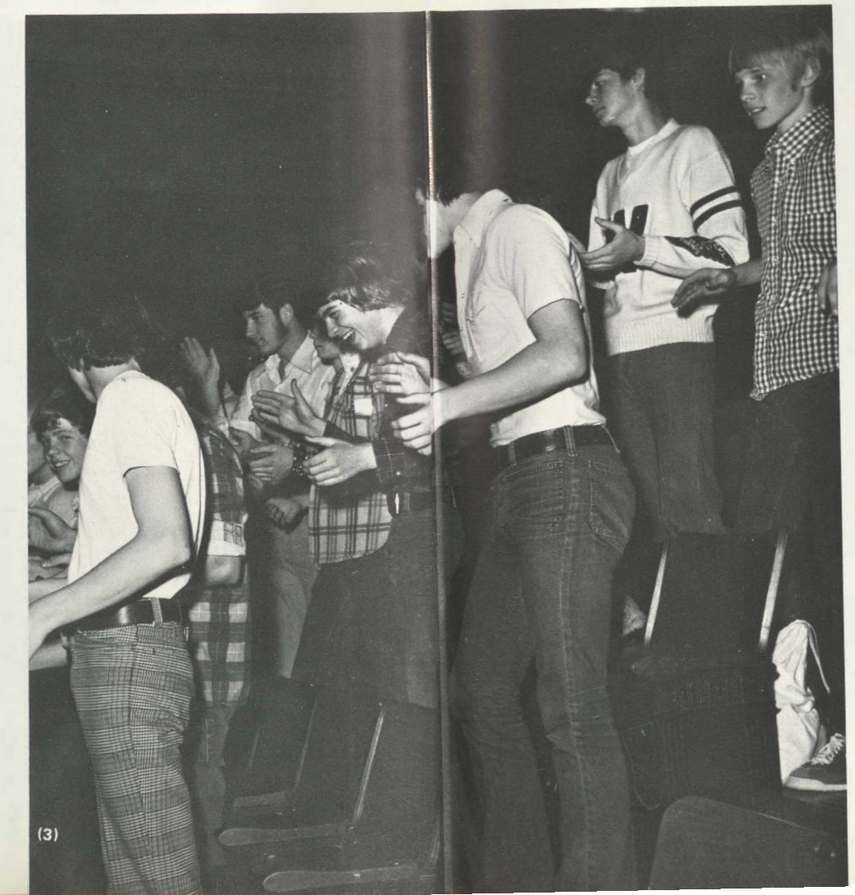
to entertain students with KUDL FM music from the past. Through the year, students were treated to other musical programs. While performing at the Top of the Crown, the True Direction made a special appearance at Wyandotte. Assembly audiences were also entertained by local talent at the Senior Talent Show. Prizes of $5.00, $10.00 and $15.00 were awarded. To provide variety, assemblies ranging from a Friday pep assembly to a comic opera were presented.



(3) Pep Assemblies, familiar to all Bulldog supporters were presented from time to time in either the gymnasium or the auditorium. (4) An advisor on the senior board, Lowell Ghosey, directed participants at the Senior Talent Show auditions. (5) Lachelle Franklin, Denise Davis and Yolanda Perkins appear as the Butt Sisters at the auditions for the Senior Talent Show.

(1) The True Direction, while in Kansas City to appear at the Top of the Crown, performed at Wyandotte during fifth and sixth hours.

(2) The History of Rock, a musical assembly presented by KUDL provided an insight into the originators of rock and roll.



FADS AND FASHIONS

Furs attractive in different lengths

from short midriff jackets to long midi coats. Students, both girls and boys, are seen with the fur look. Fads and fashions differ from year to year, often repeating themselves in history. This year the look of the 20's was represented by beads worn around the neck and wrist and flimsy hats. The look of the 50's was revived with funny socks worn with knickers or rolled up jeans. Around Wyandotte, the differing tastes of the students could be seen.

(3)

(1) Ina Square and Dianne Poole wear the fashionable "crazy socks" with rolled jeans and knickers.

(2) Fur coats can be seen in any color and length as shown by this group of Wyandotte students, boys and girls as well.

(3) Different hairstyles are a fad every year but these French braids, shags, and pageboys were the most popular. (4) Shoes, worn comfortably and dressy, were seen on students both male and female. (5) Although jeans are not a new fad, they are very versatile and are the most commonly worn fashion at Wyandotte. (6) Gail Norton and Torrie Chinn model their turban hats which are worn by many girls.

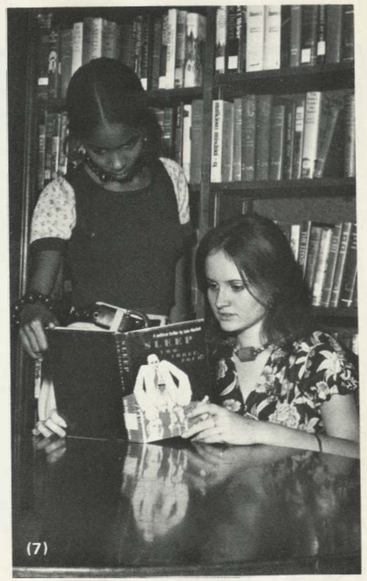
(5)



(7)

(7) Matching beads worn around the neck and wrist were very popular this year along with fine chains worn around the neck.

WINTER

Energy crisis dims Christmas spirit

due to a lack of outside colored lights. The lights of the Plaza were traditionally lit on the night of Thanksgiving, but because of President Nixon's suggestion to conserve energy, the lights were turned off. On December 9, however, the Plaza Christmas lights were again lighted. Though the winter of 1973-74 was a cold one, forcing many students to wear heavy coats and sweaters in class, Wyandotte students still managed to have a good time. There were basketball games, swim meets, and wrestling matches to attend, not to mention an eight inch snowfall to enjoy.

CHRISTMAS ROYALTY

Christmas royalty reigns over formal

December 15. Barry Wiser and Cindy Landrum were chosen king and queen of the "73-74" Christmas Formal. The Girls' League homeroom representatives nominated the royalty and they were voted on at the door by couples attending the dance. Prince and princesses were Melvin Lee and Monica Watson and Milton McDonald and Rita Alexander. Also honored were the junior attendants, Ronnie Jones and Joann Williams and the sophomore attendants, Randy Wright and Pam Kukuk.

CHRISTMAS FORMAL

Winter Wonderland selected as theme for the 1973-74 Christmas Formal which was held December 15 in the east cafeteria. Blue and silver decorated the surroundings, while The Second Wind, a soul rock band, provided dance floor entertainment for the couples. Because of the small number of tickets that had been sold three days before the dance, the formal affair was almost cancelled. There was an excellent turnout that night though, and the students enjoyed themselves.

(1) Attendants Pam Kukuk and Randy Wright walk down the aisle to take their places amidst the royalty. (2) As Mr. Collier, Mrs. Adam and Miss Burt talk behind the refreshment table, Joyce Hill waits to serve more couples. (3) Girls' league president, Wanda Brownlee, proudly gives each candidate a congratulatory present.

(4) Reba Stafford, former Christmas queen, prepares to crown Cindy Landrum as she waits excitedly. (5) During intermission, Vickie Maddox serves a group of couples at the beautifully decorated refreshment table.

(3) Harlacan calls the Captain's bluff as the crowd looks on with amazement and amusement on their faces.

(3)

THESPIAN PLAY

Stage sets minimal in Thespian play

forcing the cast to use much more expression in their portrayal of Spanish characters. The play, "A Company of Wayward Saints," was considered a great success. The theme, according to Mr. Ramseyer, centered around the idea that, "with so much pride, it's a wonder that any of us get anything done." The cast included Scott Mackey, James Bates, Tami Moulin, Chris Johnson, Charles Meister, Byron Poindexter, Bill Rust, Marcia Baker and Darlene Kitchen.

SWEETHEART DANCE

Dance celebrated Valentine's Day

on February 14 and was entitled, The Sweetheart Dance. Sponsored by the Future Teachers of America Organization, the dance was held in the west cafeteria after school from 3:30 to 5:00. The band, Black Velvet, was scheduled to perform, but was unable to be present. The singing group, The Deepest Emotion, provided entertainment for the students along with the use of records. Contestants were chosen by FTA members; then voted on by the student body. All grades were represented in the selection.

(2) The dance floor was crowded by active students, dancing to the sound of the record player in the cafeteria.

(3) A popular singing group at Wyandotte, "The Deepest Emotion" sang six well-known songs at the dance.

SPRING

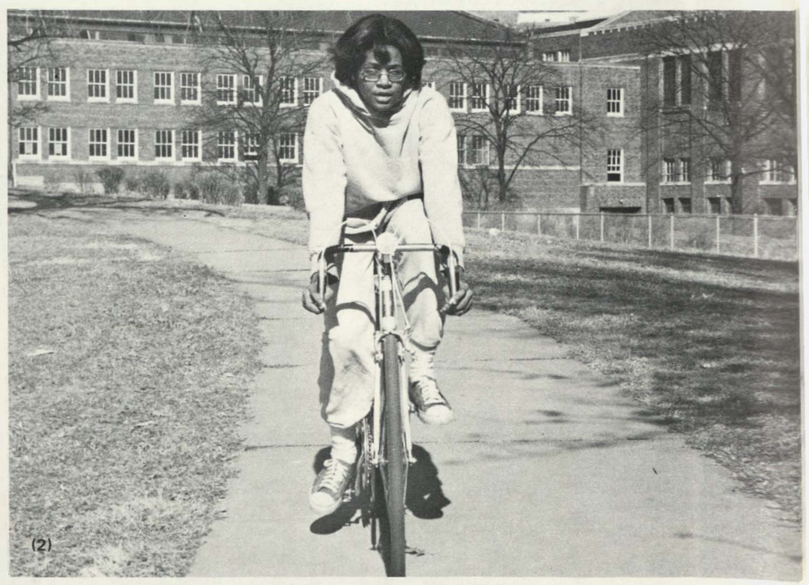
Early warm weather enchants students at Wyandotte. Many students took advantage of spring's extra early warm weather by enjoying such activities as bicycling and tennis. Thoughts turned from schoolwork to after school activities as the classroom clock neared 2:15. Every day after school, the men out for the spring sports of baseball, track, tennis and golf could be seen practicing on the campus. Also working were the girls of the girls' track team. In the spring, many seniors began to make plans for graduation, summer work and college as the finale of the '73-'74 school year neared.



(1) Steve Duncan, taking advantage of the warm sunny weather of early spring, plays tennis after school.

(2) Finding the sidewalks of Wyandotte's back campus the perfect place for a spring bicycle ride, Jessie Pruitt speeds along.

(3) Wilene Jones, on a weekend shopping trip for spring clothes, asks Reginald Johnson for his advice.

(4) Walking home from school one afternoon, Debbie Harrison and Mary Witt find it warm enough to remove their coats.

P.T.A. PLAY

Wyandotte P.T.A. presents melodrama

to area elementary school students. "Little Nell the Orphan Girl or a Fight for Woman's Honor" was presented during fifth and sixth hours on February 8 for the enjoyment of Wyandotte High School students. Mrs. Word, English, speech and drama instructor, directed the play. "Little Nell the Orphan Girl or a Fight for Woman's Honor" is an old-fashioned melodrama complete with a gallant hero, a poor, innocent orphan girl and an evil villain.

(2)

(1) Daryl Blessinghan, the villain in the play who was portrayed by Chris Johnson, attempts to kiss Little Nell, played by Lonnie Allen.

(2) Trelawny, John Barber, tells Little Nell the orphan that she is the girl he wants to marry, as Nell mocks surprise.

(3) "Nothing strange about me," says Mike Bunch as the Detective to Mrs. Tillinghast, who was played by Debbie Vaughn. (4) Backstage before the play, Lonnie Allen works in front of the mirror as Brenda Timmons and Connie Gray look on. (5) On his knees before Little Nell the Orphan Girl, Trelawny Tillinghast proposes marriage and Little Nell excitedly accepts.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Dr. Plucker begins his twelfth year, as Superintendent of the Kansas City, Kansas Public Schools. The Board of Education's plan to alleviate the problem of overcrowded schools went into effect with the opening of three new schools. The schools are D.D. Eisenhower Junior High, F.L. Schlagle High School and J.C. Harmon High School. The Board members are: Mr. David Larson, Mr. William Modrcin, Rev. E.A. Wadlowe, Rev. H.W. Barnett, Mr. Howard Porter, Mrs. R.W. Scoville and Dr. John Yulich.

ADMINISTRATION

Rhone promoted to job of principal

after serving as assistant principal for many years. One of the first changes he made was the dropping of homeroom. Activities which were performed in homeroom are now done in first hour. Mr. Ray Daniels, who had been an English teacher at Wyandotte, was made a vice-principal. Mr. Jerry Collier, formerly principal at Sumner High School, was also appointed a vice-principal. Mr. Donald Upson returned for his fourth year as a vice-principal.

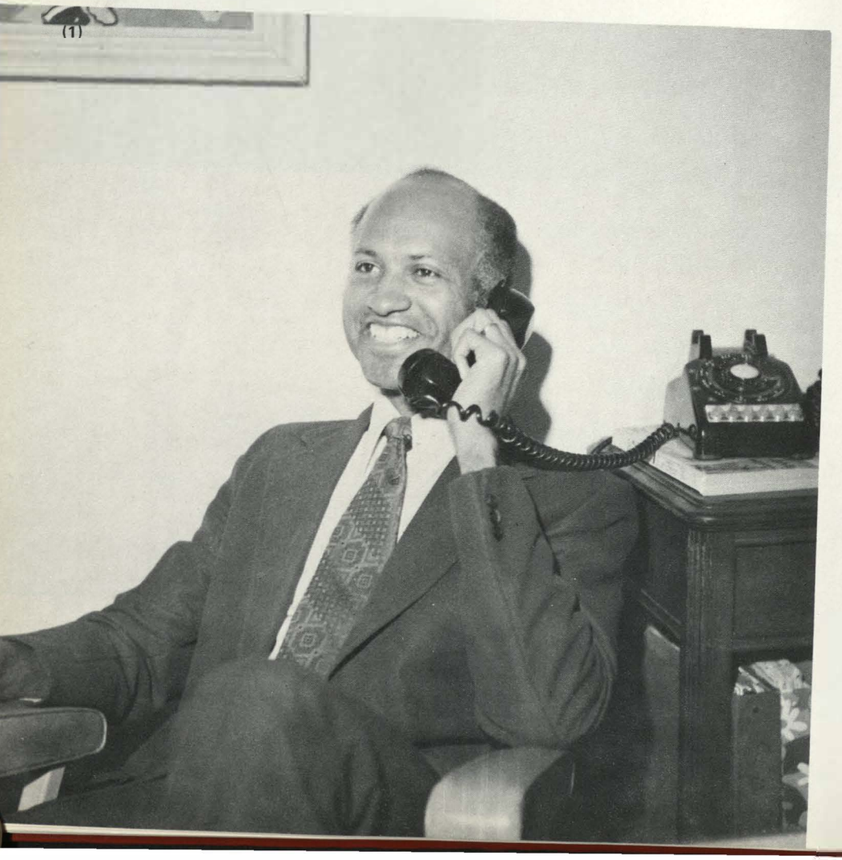
COUNSELORS

Counseling staff decreased to five

as a result of the opening of Schlagle High School, which caused an enrollment decrease at Wyandotte. Due to the smaller enrollment, one less counselor was needed. Counselors help students with their problems. They also help seniors decide what to do after graduation. The counselors are Mrs. Lois Arioli, Mrs. Myrna Carlock, Mr. Richard Deschner, Mr. Webster Gaylord, and Mr. Charles Vining.



(1) Mr. Deschner counsels students with last names Mj-Si. (2) Mr. Gaylord is always willing to help students with last names Aa-C. (3) Students with last names from Hj-Mi are counseled by Mrs. Arioli.

(4) Mrs. Carlock advises students with last names D-Hi. (5) Mr. Vining advises students who have names from Sj-Z. (6) Mrs. Ellis, secretary in the guidance office, busily types a letter. .

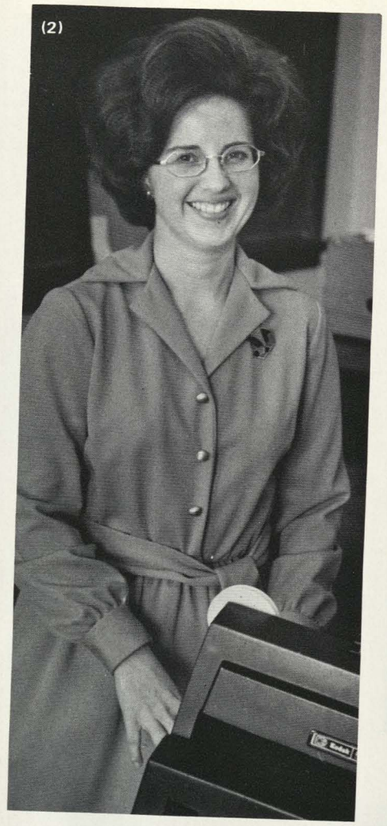
(7) Rich Howe, American History, Psychology. (8) The P.T.A. mothers found that Open House was a good time to sell P.T.A. memberships and bulldogs to the visitors.

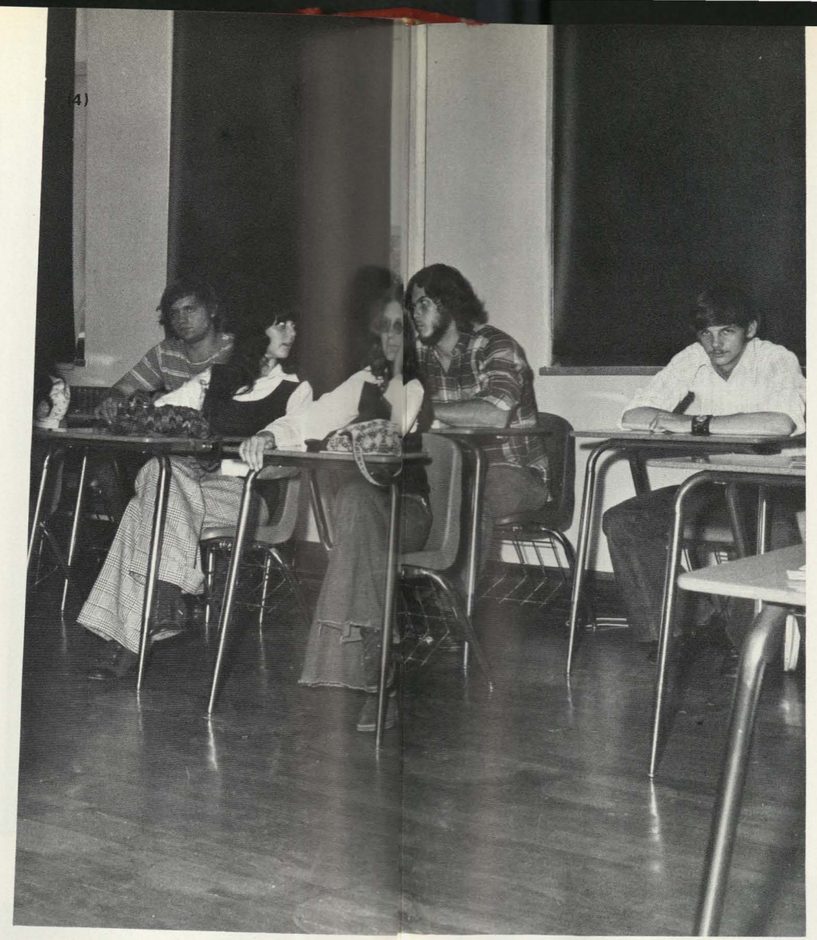
ENGLISH

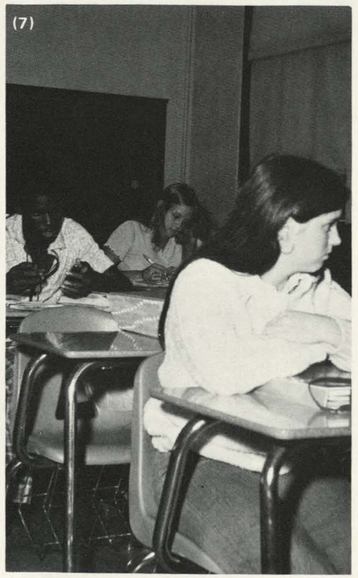
Electives offered as English classes

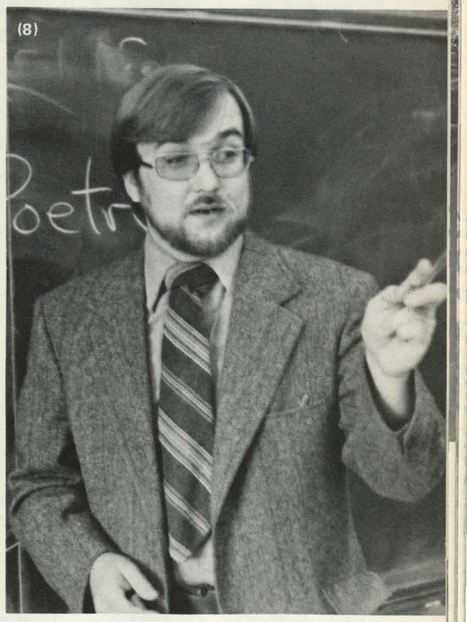
again this year. Students can choose from many substitutes for an English class. Film classes provide a chance for students to learn how to make a film. Film students not only make their own films; they also select music, titles, subjects, and themes for their films. Meanwhile, Humanities offers students a chance to learn about the basic problems and values of human life. Creative Writing involves writing poems, essays, plays, and short stories. Students express themselves through various forms of writing.

Imagine me in movies. . .A star.









(1) Susan Edwards, English III, Yearbook. (2) Carol Ramirez, Film. (3) In Mr. Griffin's Humanities class, Denise Lombrando, Brenda Fisher and Steve Duncan vigorously engage in a discussion. (4) Film students listen to Mrs. Ramirez give instructions before they start on their own films.

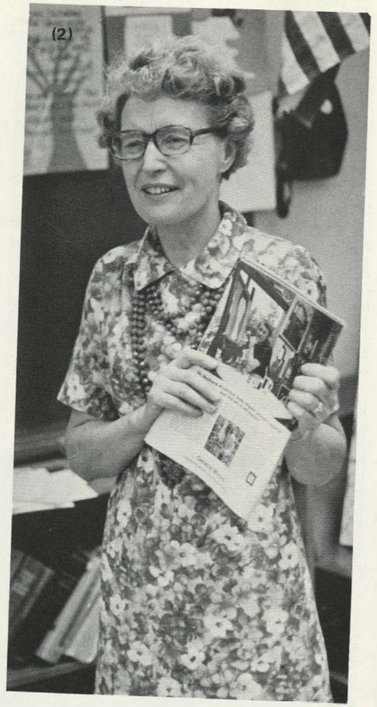
(5) Melba McNutt, English II. (6) Doretha Jordon, English II. (7) Creative Writing students think carefully about using the right words in their assignments. (8) Stan Jasinskas, English IV, Vocabulary Word Study, Creative Writing. (9) Carol Ochs, English II.

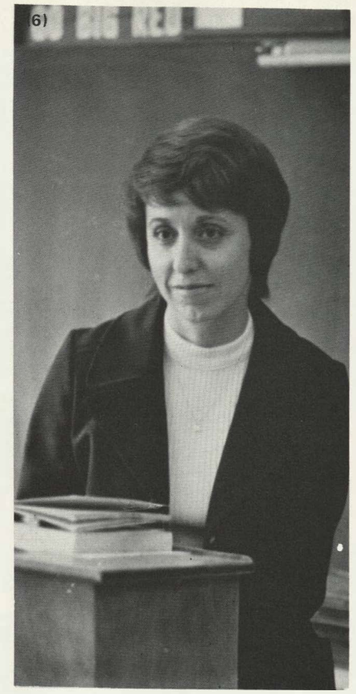
ENGLISH

Literature Abounds in English classes

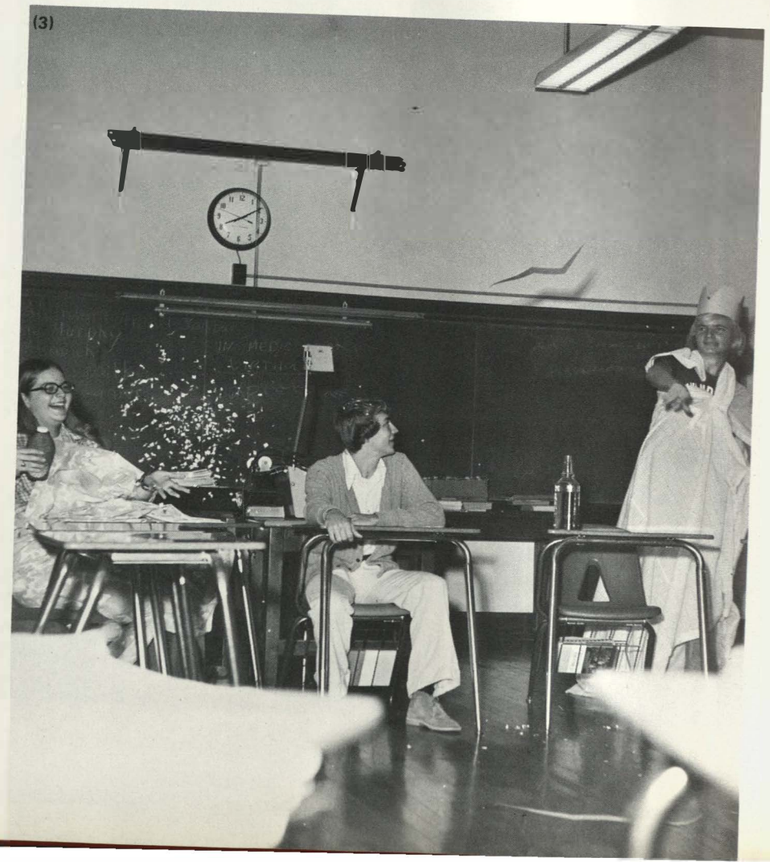
this year at Big Red. Senior English classes compare Mythology and English Literature. Sophomores taking English review short stories, poetry, and basic English skills. Junior English classes study American Literature. Students of Protest Literature class study protest writers such as Kurt Vonnegut and Aldous Huxley. Sports Literature classes study the effects that sports and athletics have on society.

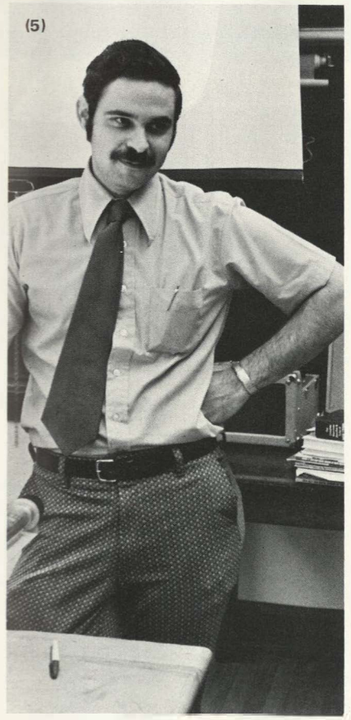
Did you read the Lit?. . .I did.

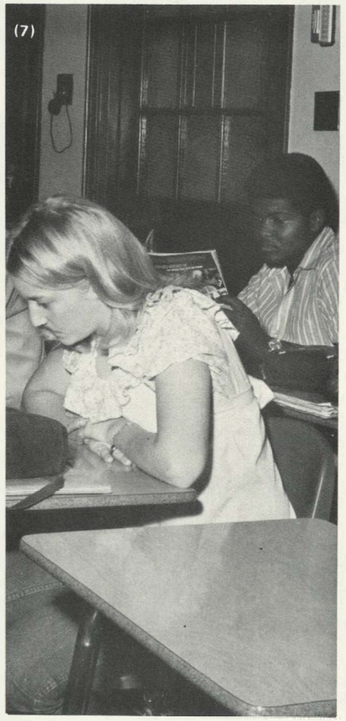




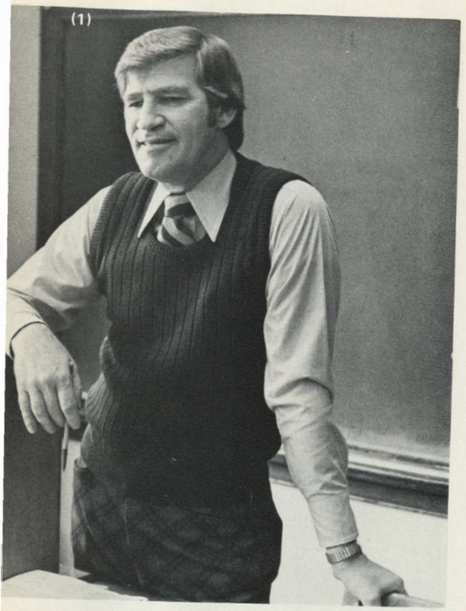
(5) Charles Burgess, English IV, Sports Literature. (6) Connie Moritz, English IV, Protest Literature. (7) Students in Sports Literature read a story from a sports magazine. The story will be covered later by a discussion involving the entire class. (8) Sherry O'Dell, English II. (9) Kim Thomas and Rose Witt read "The Lottery" in their sophomore English class during a unit on short stories.

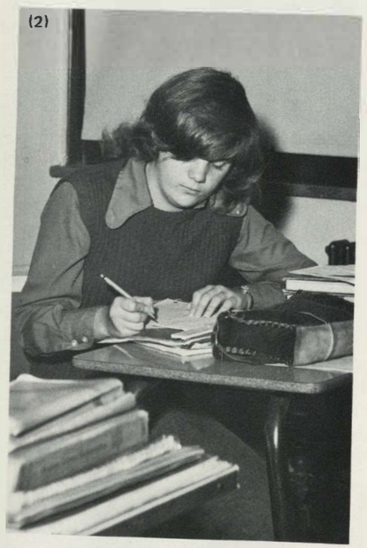


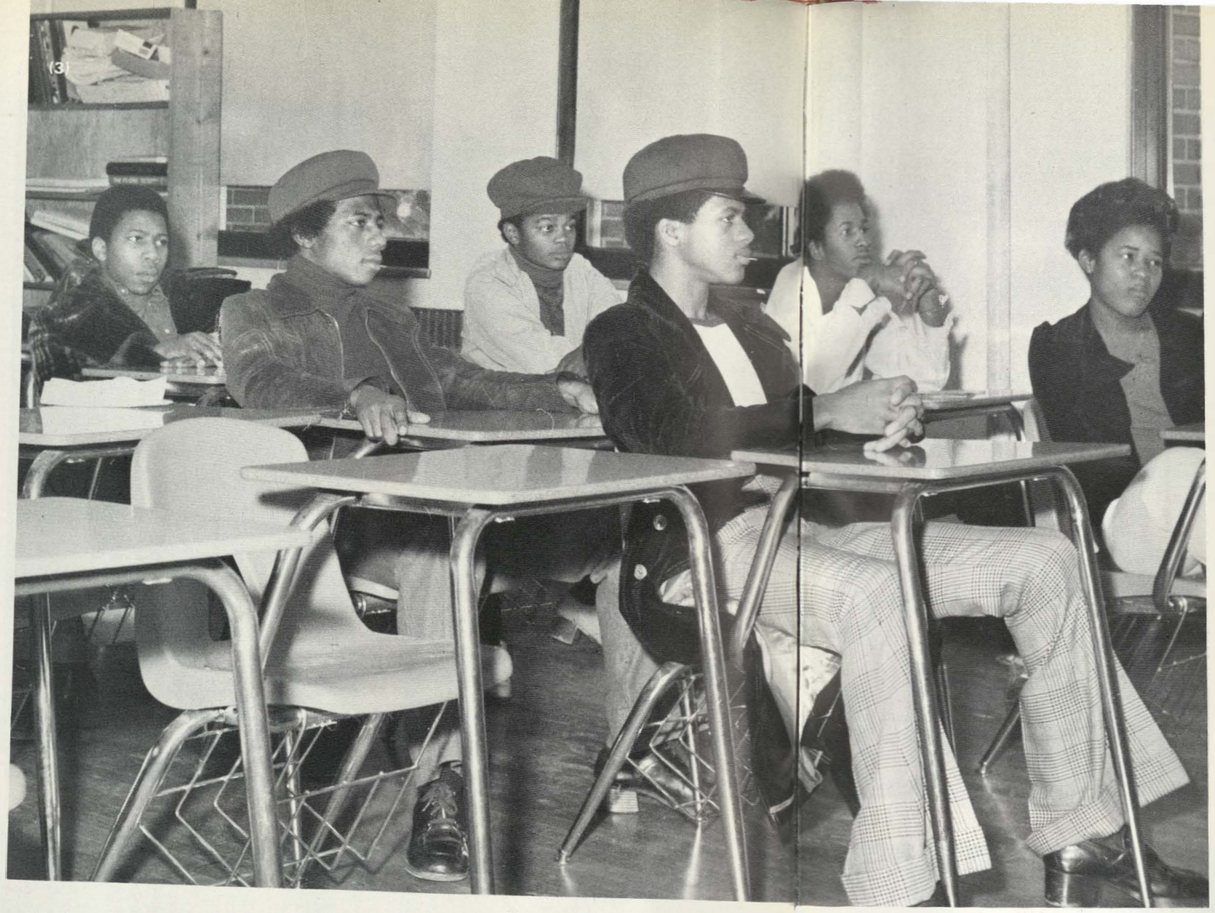


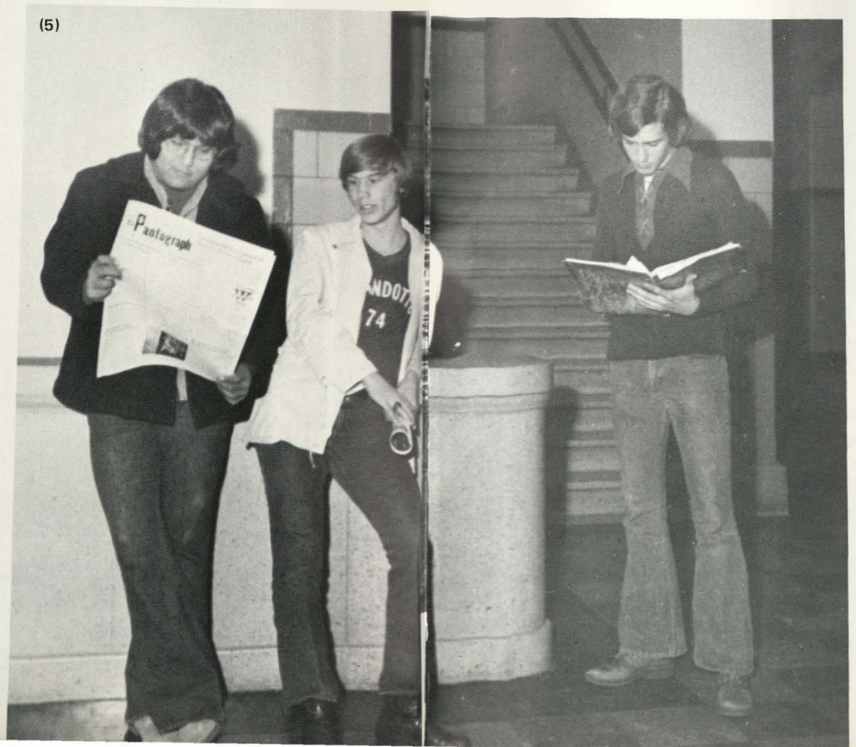


(1) Julie Lane, English III, English IV. (2) Frances Swett, English II. (3) When Mr. Burgess' first hour Senior English class studied Mythology, Carol Harper, James Bates and Richard Harrell performed a play to explain Mythology literature. (4) During a discussion in Protest Literature, Kirsten Hansen and Brenda Timmons point out the differences between the U.S.A. and Denmark.

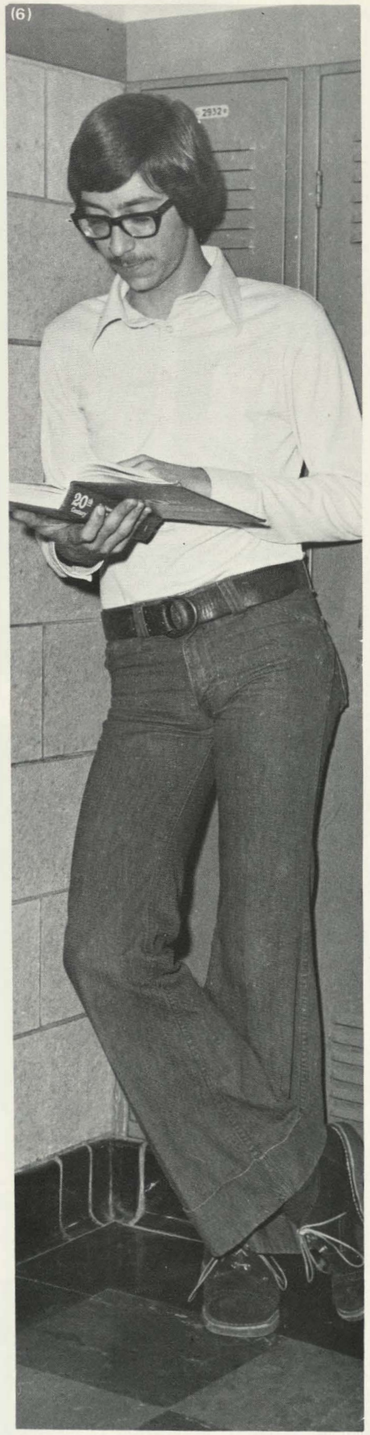








(1) Gene Liles, English III. (2) Working on a vocabulary assignment, Kaffie Ross copies her assignment from the board to make sure she has it right. (5) Ray Walker, Scott Mackey and Ron Lundine talk over an assignment and discuss a story in the Pantograph.



ENGLISH

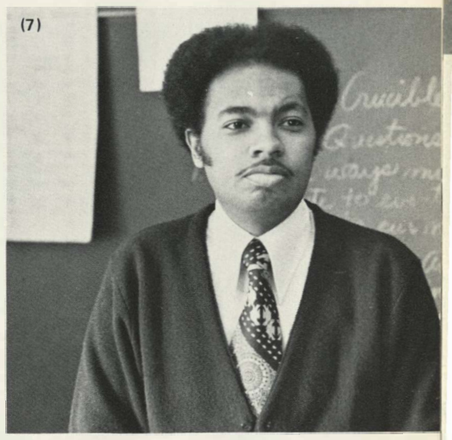
Variety of subjects covered in English classes. The English Department varies greatly in the subjects taught. One of the new courses this year is Vocabulary Word Study. It is a semester class designed to improve one's vocabulary. Students write letters, themes and paragraphs to build their vocabularies.

I lost my word list. . .I forgot my report. . .Would you believe my dog chewed it up?. . .It blew out the car window?. . .How about. . .I left it at home?. . .Another theme due on Monday using the new list.



(6) Steve Schimdt finds a wall to lean on, while he studies for a bookkeeping test that he will take later on. (7) Eugene Williams, English III, Sports Literature.

FINE ARTS

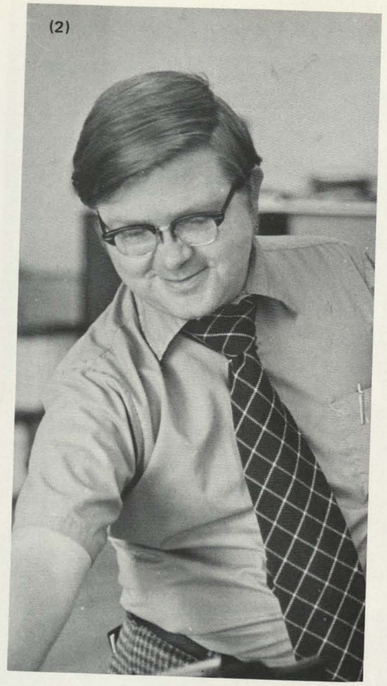
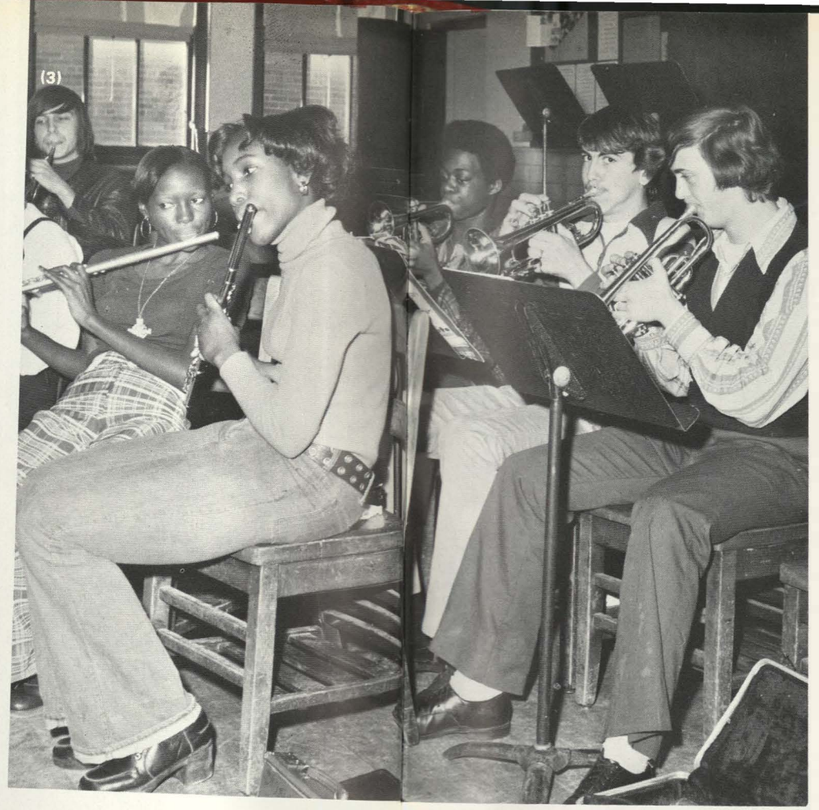
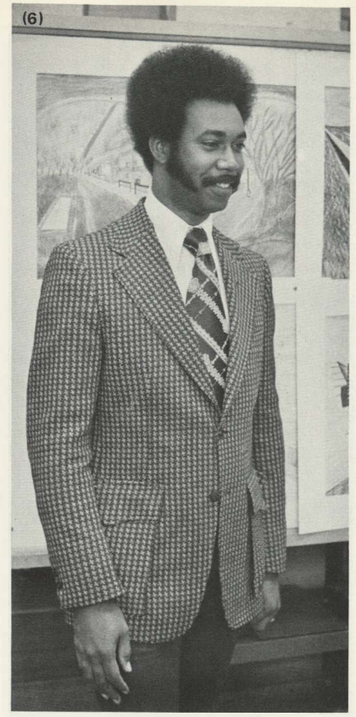
New teachers led music department in the Fine Arts section this year. Mr. Brown teaches Vocal Music and Music Theory. While Mr. Thompson instructs all the Instrumental Music classes. The music classes perform several concerts throughout the year. These concerts being both inside and outside of school.

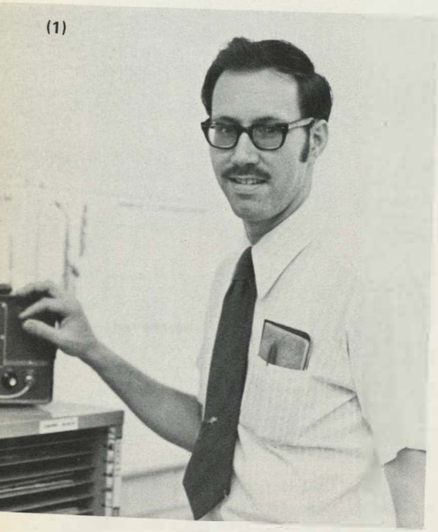
The Art Department carries on one of the oldest of Wyandotte's traditions, by decorating Social Hall each year at Christmas.

I can't find my music. . .Help me hang this picture. . .Another mistake, I'll paint over it. . .Sit up straight altos and support.



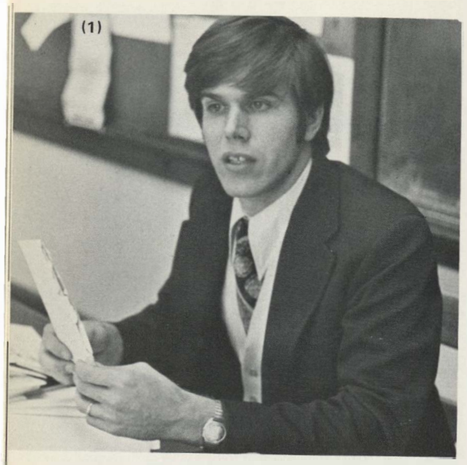


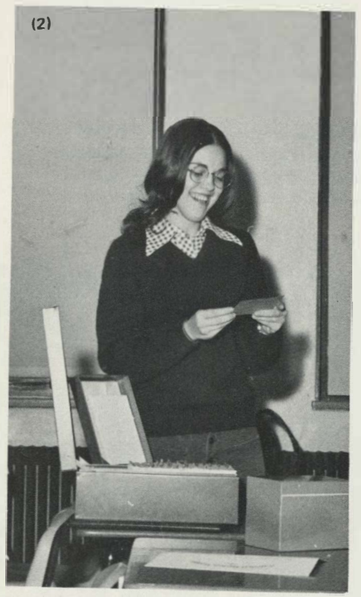


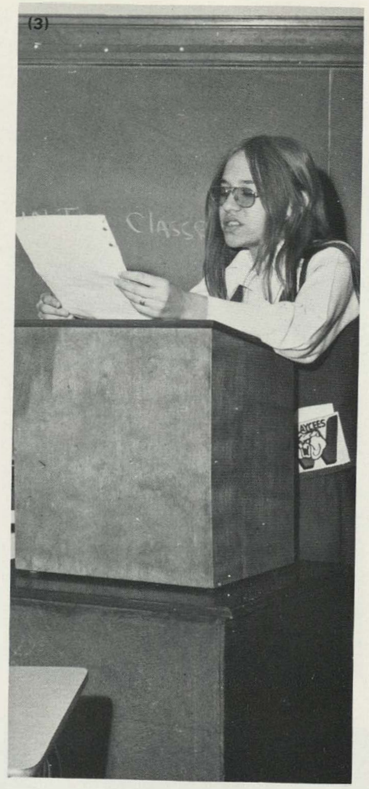


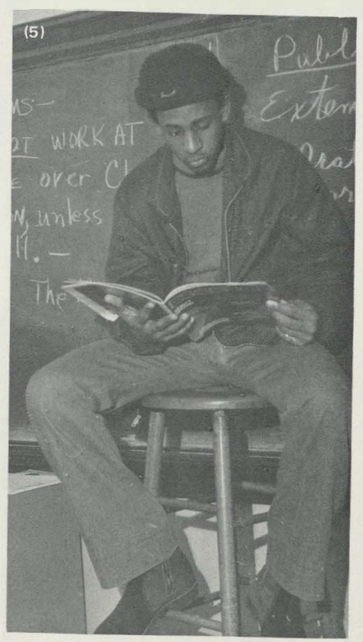
(1) J.D. Thompson, Instrumental Music. (2) Duane A. Brown, Vocal Music Theory. (3) The beginning winds class works on scales and learns to keep an eye out for the conductor. (4) Art I students work on lettering, stopping to compare each other's masterpieces.

(5) Clifton McWaid, Art I, II, III, and IV. (6) Foster Kidd, Art I, 3-D. (7) A Cappella Choir goes caroling through the halls bringing everyone some Christmas joy.

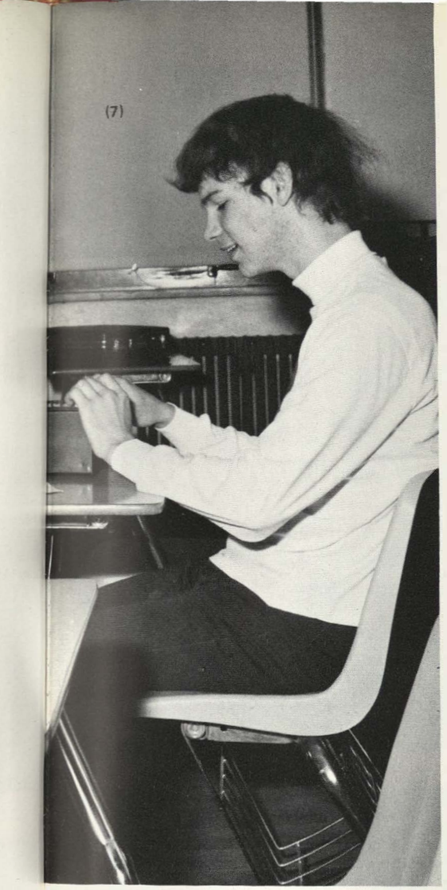


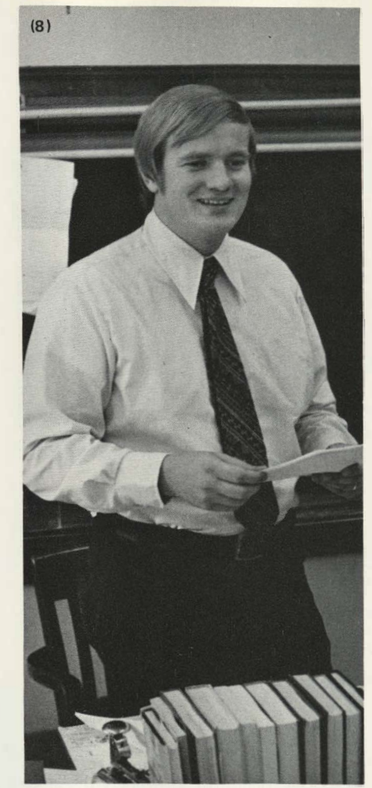






(1) Roger Ramseyer, Debate, Drama I. (2) Robin Hayes smiles as she looks over a card that she made an embarrassing error on, and tries to find a way to correct it. (3) Patty Welch delivers a speech on codes to her sixth hour Speech I class. (4) Byron Pointdexter, during his Drama I class, hunts for a pantomime. (5) Jan Word, English III, Drama I, Speech I. (6) Cecilia Sheets, Dawn Davis and Chuck Green rehearse their play outside the drama room before presenting it to the class.





FINE ARTS

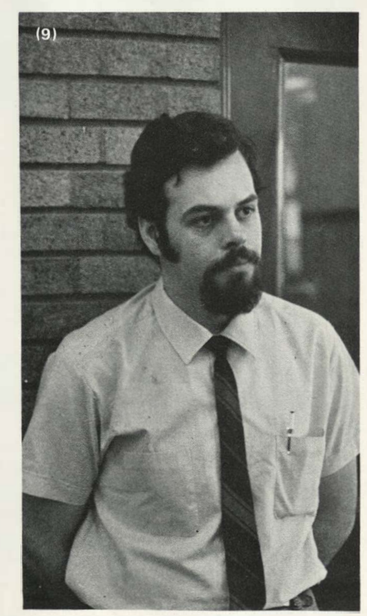
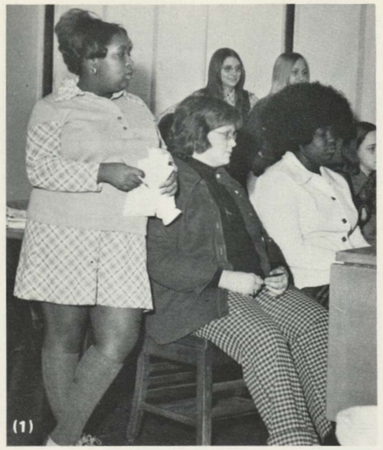
Hard work by both Drama and Debate involves many extra hours rehearsing plays and researching debate topics at the library for tournaments.

Mrs. Word, a new teacher in this department, teaches Drama I, Speech I and English. While Mr. Ramseyer, another new teacher, instructs Debate, Forensics and Drama.

Rehearsal after school in the auditorium. . .Do you know all your lines?. . .Let me see your cards. . .We finally won our first place trophy.



(7) Kenny Clark, in preparation for a debate, looks over his cards, making sure they are exactly as he wants them to be. (8) K.J. Hoffman, Speech I, Speech II. (9) W.A. McIntosh, Drama II, Drama I, Stagecraft. (10) This year's N.F.L. officers are Chris Johnson-President; John Barber-Vice President; Steve Ford-Senior Advisor; Bill Rust-Point Keeper; Brenda Timmons-Secretary; Mr. Ramseyer-Faculty Advisor.



HOME ECONOMICS

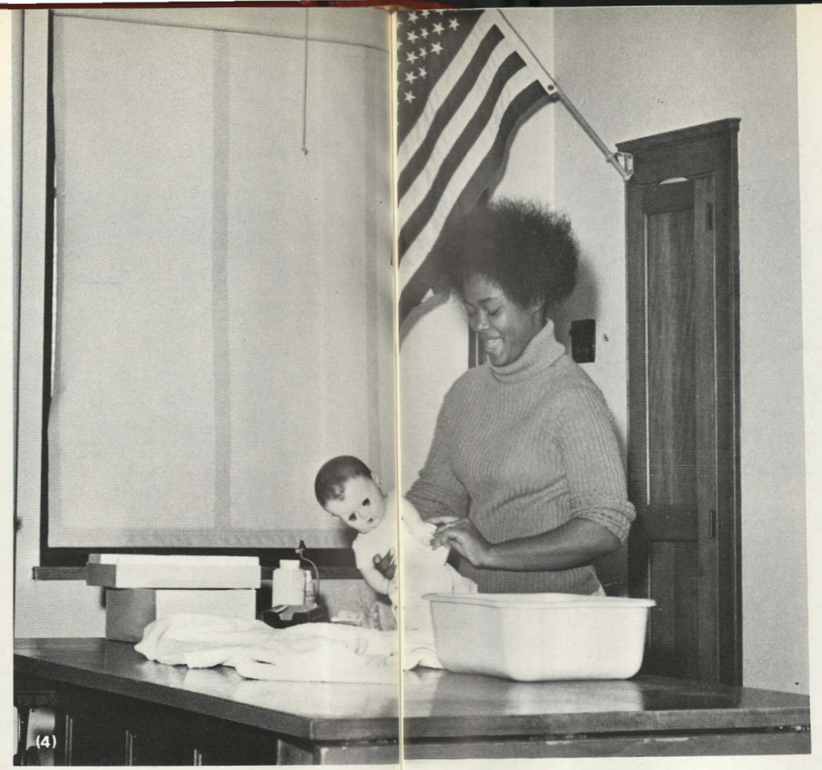
Foods teaches boys as well as girls

the nutritional value of foods, how to arrange a kitchen, and basic skills which are needed in preparing meals.

Family living explains to the students marriage, money management and consumer education. The home and its furnishings are also discussed in this course.

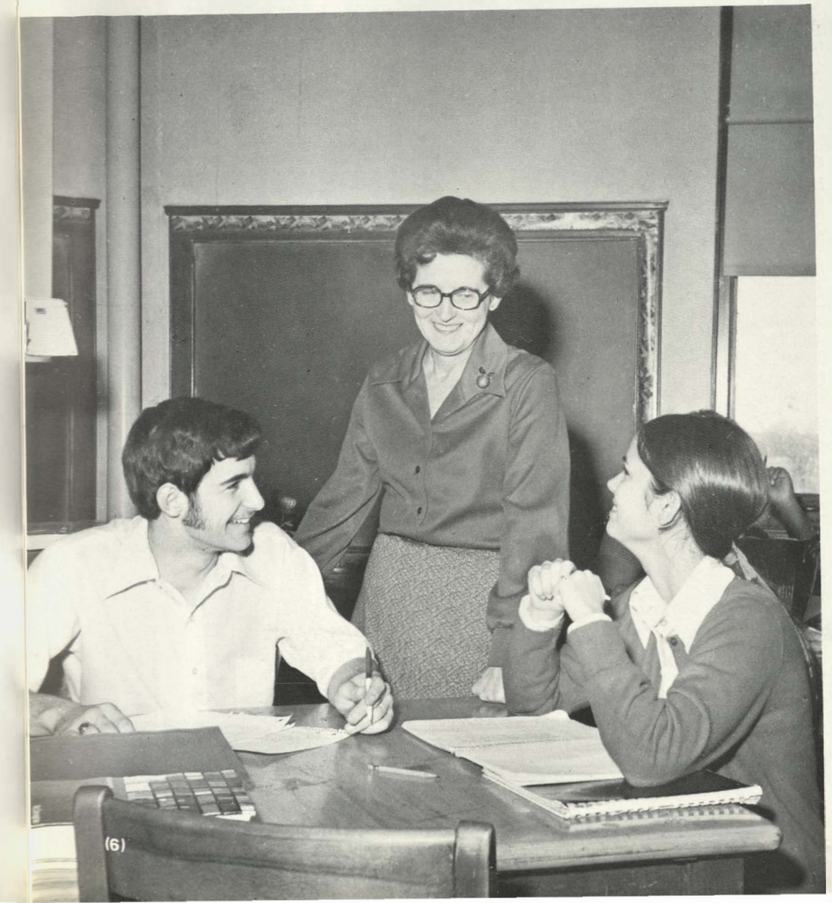
How will I know when the cocoa is done?. . .Green walls with a red carpet?. . .Quick! Quick! The oven's on fire!. . .I get to be the chef this time!. . .

(1) Students watch a demonstration in Child Development class. (2) L. Hawks, Clothing I, II.



(3) Mrs. Daugherty gives a demonstration in Foods concerning the conservation of energy. (4) Bertha Wheeler, a student in Miss Varner's class, gives an example of how to bathe a baby.

(5) Marion Lorimer, Foods I, Family living.
(6) Miss Lorimer answers questions in her class.



(7) B. Letcher, Foods II, Boys Food. (8) Roberta Varner, Child Development, Family Living.
(9) Foods Class listens to a lecture on meats.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

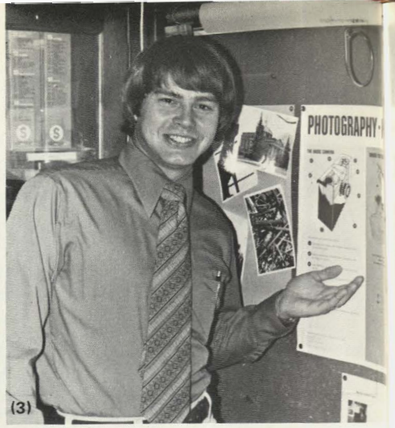
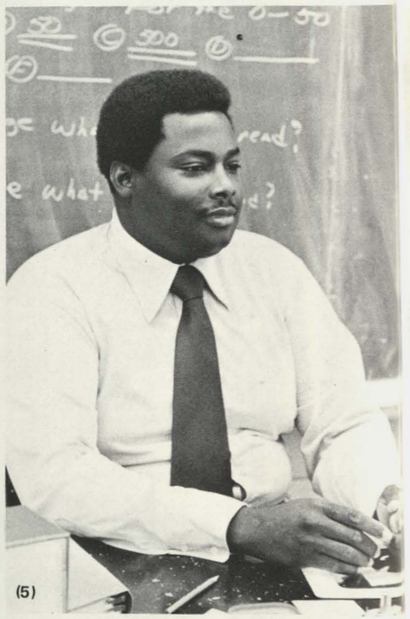
Girls branched out to attend courses in Drafting and Printing. The young men of WHS found that they had a surprise when the year started: girls in the shop classes. Mr. Fennema, a new member of the teaching staff, teaches Auto Mechanics. Also new was Mr. Lewis who teaches drafting and architecture.

Hand me that @$& wrench!. . . Mr. Lewis is so cute—he makes me nervous!. . .Can I please borrow your eraser?. . .Don't smear the ink!. . .*





(1) Students in Woodworking designed and made their own chess board and competed for class champion. (2) Terri Patterson, the only girl in fifth hour Drafting, works on a project.

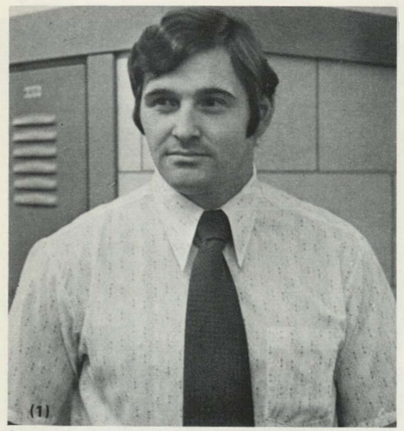
(3) Bill Lewis, Architecture V, Drafting II, Architectural Drafting III. (4) Steve Fennema, Power Machines, Vocational Auto Mechanics. (5) Eddie Price, General Shop, Woodworking I.

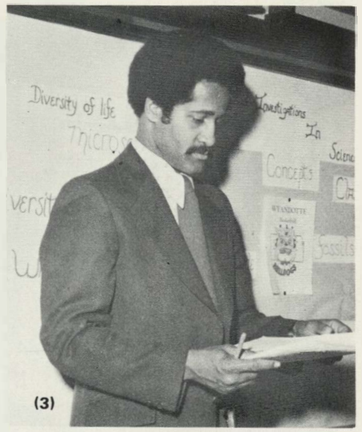
(9) Two members of A.V.T.S. learn auto body repair while adding finishing touches to a V.W. (10) Two young men in Auto Mechanics disagree on what is wrong with a car they are working on.

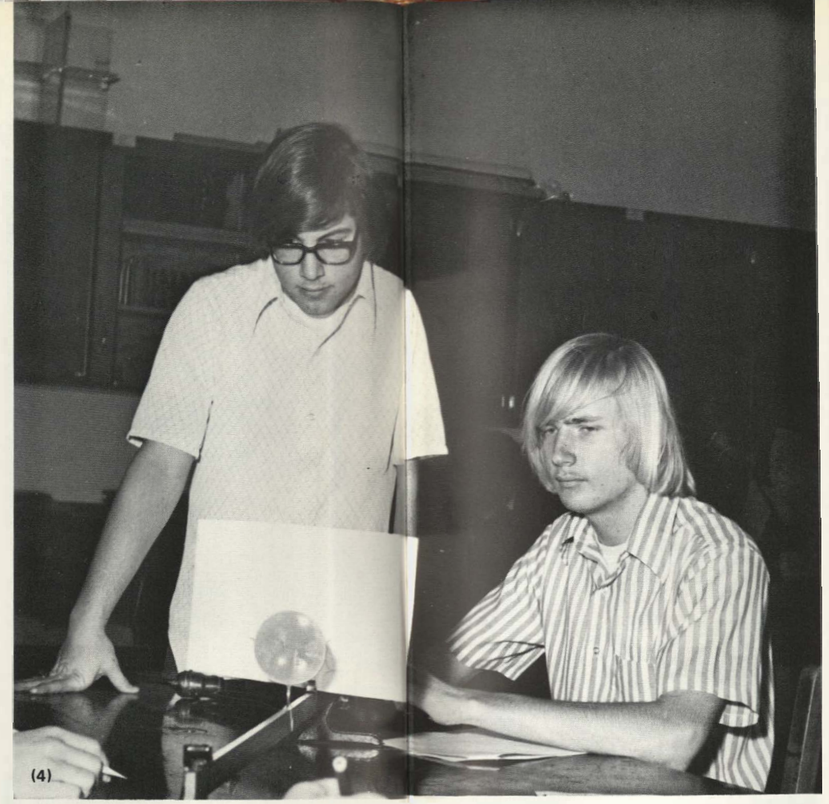
(6) Larry Alcorn, Woodworking I, II, III, IV. (7) Culton Hamilton, Metals I, II, III. (8) Jack Tharp, Printing I, II, Vocational Printing.

(1) Bill Perry, Biology I. (2) As an assignment, Biology I students work to mate animals.

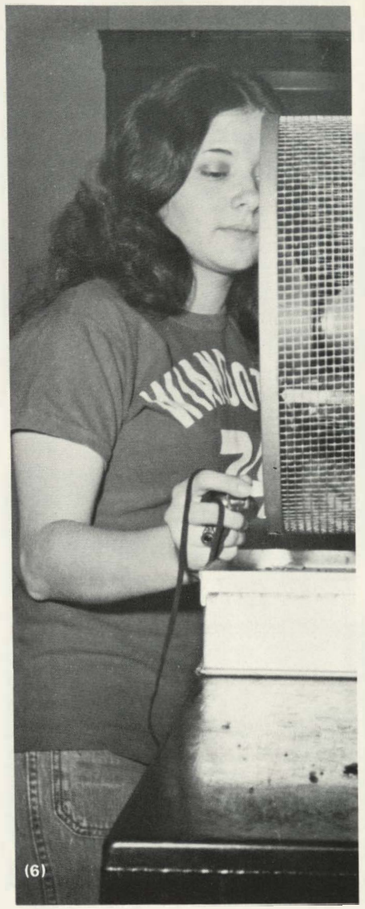
(3) Delbert M. Ayers, Biology I. (4) Jerry Walker and Richard Harrell perfect their laser.

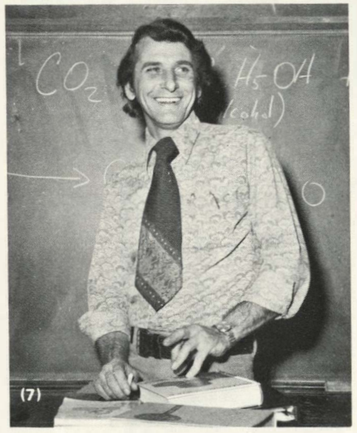






(5) Chemistry provides a challenge to students who are curious about matter and what happens when the temperature is changed by experiments.
(6) Susan Turner, a Biology II student, clocks her pet hamster in revolutions per minute.





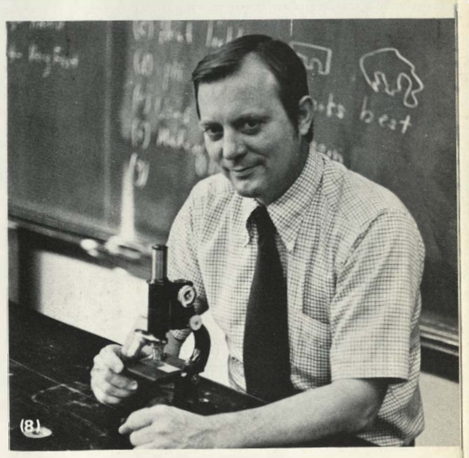
SCIENCE

Biology 1 studies plant, animal life

at a basic level. Biology II delves further into the life functions of plants and animals. Students in these classes perform individual experiments under the supervision of their teachers.

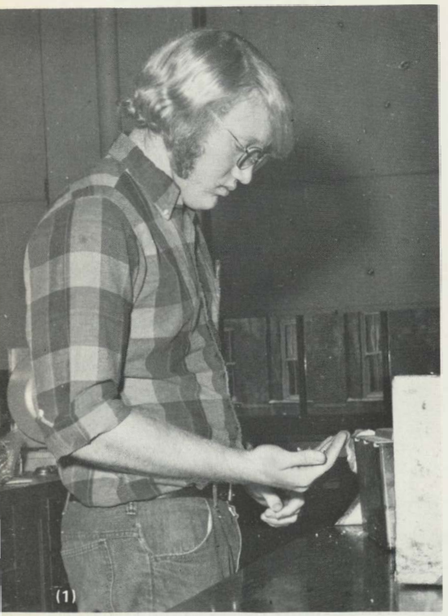
Chemistry provides students with a chance to work with a slide rule for problem solving and open-ended experiments. The general aim of this class is to help students apply what they learn in Chemistry to their daily lives.

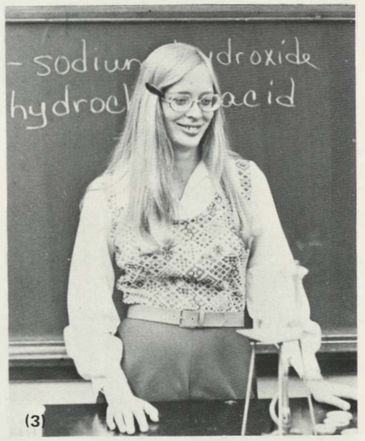
Must we dissect this frog?. . .



(7) Paul Basinger, Biology I.
(8) Leo Schwerdtfeger, Biology I.

(1) Don Feltham, a Biology student, does an experiment on the life span of mice. (2) Marion Hobbs, Biology II.





SCIENCE

Problem solving is point of Physics

along with a more advanced use of the slide rule. Physics involves the principles of matter, motion and electricity.

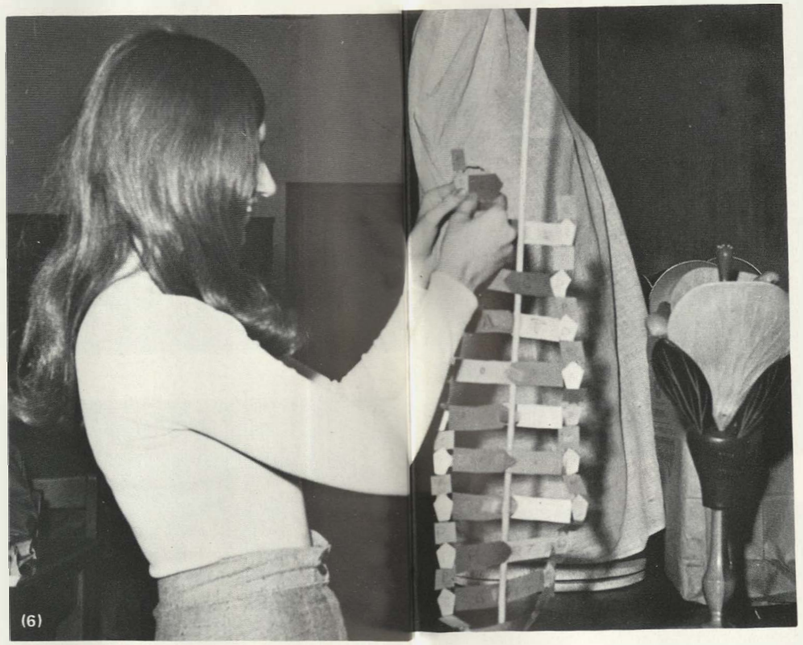
Students who select physics generally do so with a purpose of entering the fields of engineering, medicine, or other related fields.

My slide rule is stuck and I can't get it to work. . .

Which is the negative ground and which is the positive ground?

Centrifugal force?. . .

(3) Linda Tiers, Biology. (4) Ashley Elbl, Chemistry. (5) Carl Greene, Physics. (6) A girl in Mrs. Hobbs' Biology I class adds another link to the life chain that they are studying. (7) Students in biology discover that there are many lab reports and study sheets to be done.



(8) Dara Daugherty works on an experiment concerning the conditions under which bacteria will grow. (9) Students of Mr. Green's physics class listen to instructions for experiments.

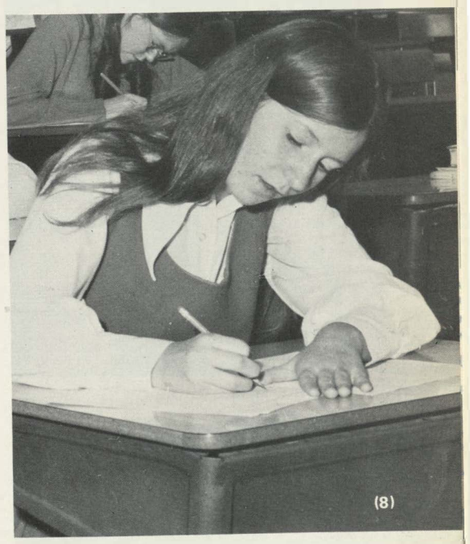
MATHEMATICS

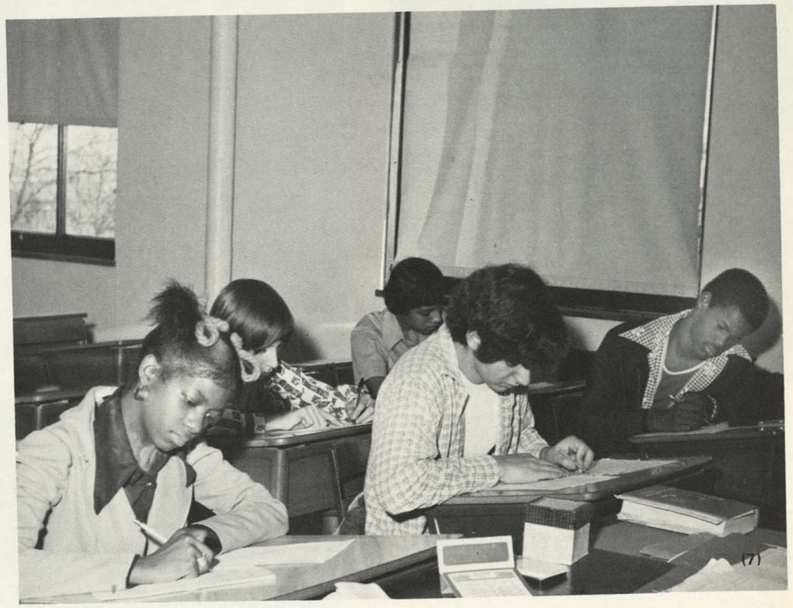
Mathemetrics is a popular math class

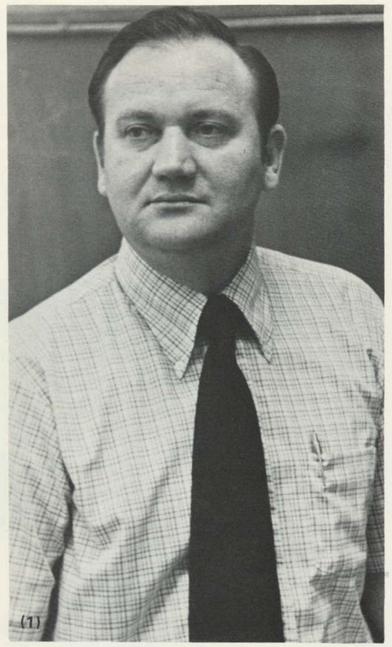
to take at Wyandotte. Students learn how math is used in business, industry, sports and hobbies. Students use different tools and different techniques of measuring. Geometry classes at Big Red spend a lot of time working with angles, planes and solids while Algebra I classes study the number system, including both the rational and irrational numbers. (Make a Proof?) ugh-How?. . .I thought I measured it right. . .Find the area of a square. . .I can do it.

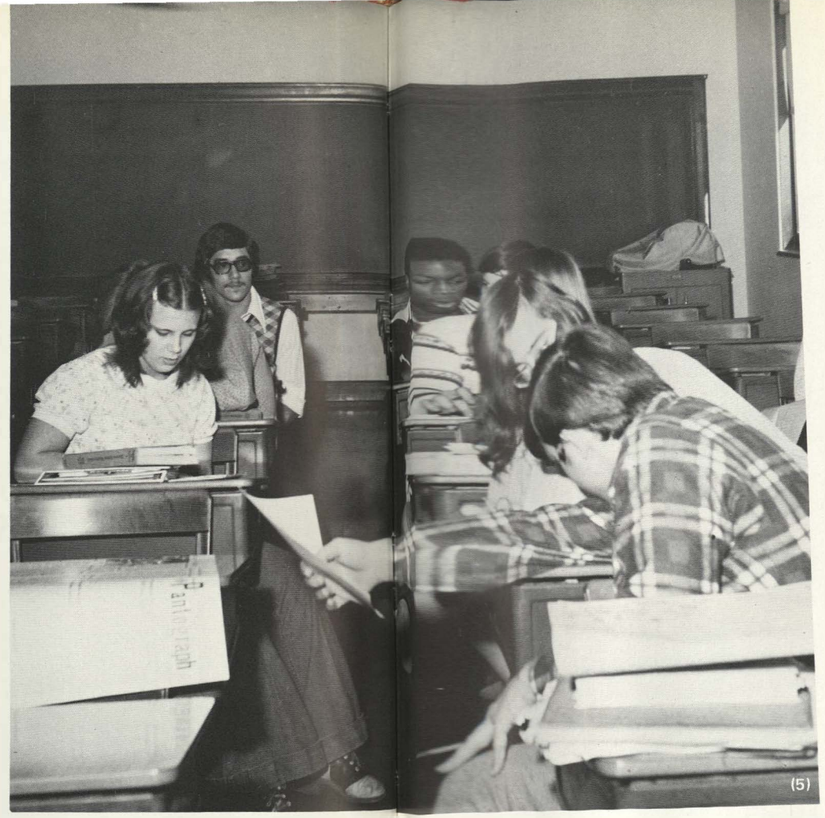
(1) Francis A. Swaim, Geometry, Principles of Math. (2) Carol Stipetich, Geometry, Mathemetrics. (3) Mrs. Jimenez's sixth hour Geometry class spends class time attempting to complete the assignment given to them for homework. (4) Harold Colston and Mike Webb, have some difficulty in working with levers and weights in Mathemetrics.

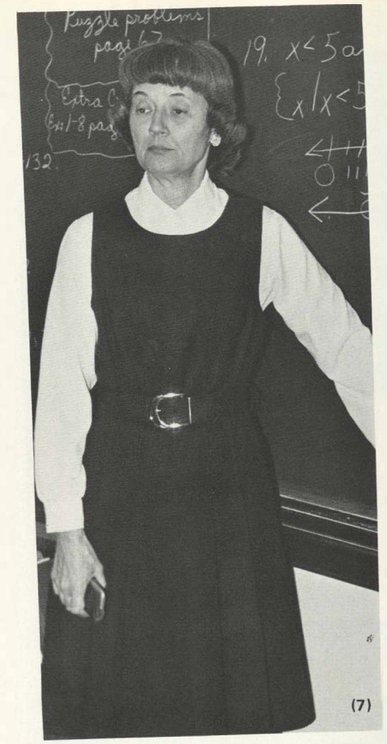
(5) Steve Novak, explains to Mr. Strimple that he does not understand vector addition. (6) Wayne Hobelman, Algebra I, Mathemetrics. (7) Miss Hutcherson's sixth hour Algebra I class finds out that taking a test in Algebra is not always as easy as it looks. (8) Debbie Harrison works furiously on her Algebra test, to make sure she gets all the problems right.











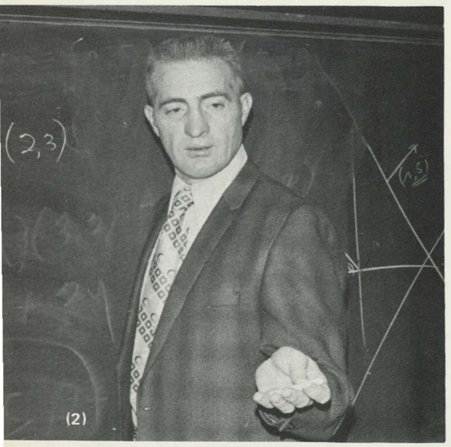
MATHEMATICS

New Math teacher on Big Red's staff

this year. Mrs. Jimenez joined the Mathematics Department, she teaches Principles of Math and Geometry.

Two other Math courses offered at Wyandotte are Math Analysis and Algebra II. These classes are for students truly interested in math. Students in Math Analysis are usually the best math students at Wyandotte.

Four plus four is eight, I think. . .Explain problem number six again. . .I don't understand it.



(1) Clyde Eaks, Algebra I, Principles of Mathematics. (2) Clyde Strimple, Math Analysis, Algebra II. (3) Pat Jimenez, Principles of Math. (4) Second hour Math Analysis students listen and watch Mr. Strimple explain a difficult problem they had to do for homework. (5) Mr. Strimple's Algebra II class works on their homework, so they can finish before leaving for Christmas vacation.

(6) Algebra II is difficult to understand so the class works diligently in order to grasp the mathematical concepts.
(7) Viola Hutcherson, Algebra I. (8) During his sixth hour Principles of Math class, Scott Adison checks his notebook for the right assignment before working.

BUSINESS

Business prepares students for world of work by providing them with a better understanding of commerce. In General Business a study is made of banking, credit, and insurance. Rotary calculators and comptometers are a few machines used to train students for office work. Business Law teaches students their rights and obligations under the law. Economics emphasizes an understanding of wise buying. What should you look for when buying insurance?. . .Credit plan?

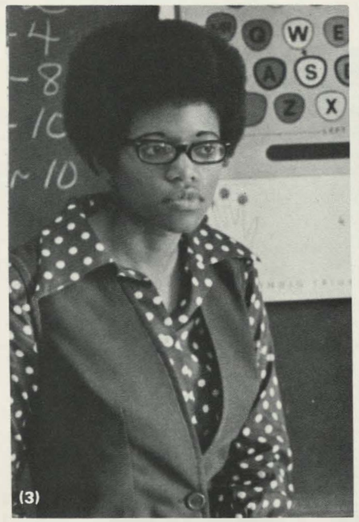
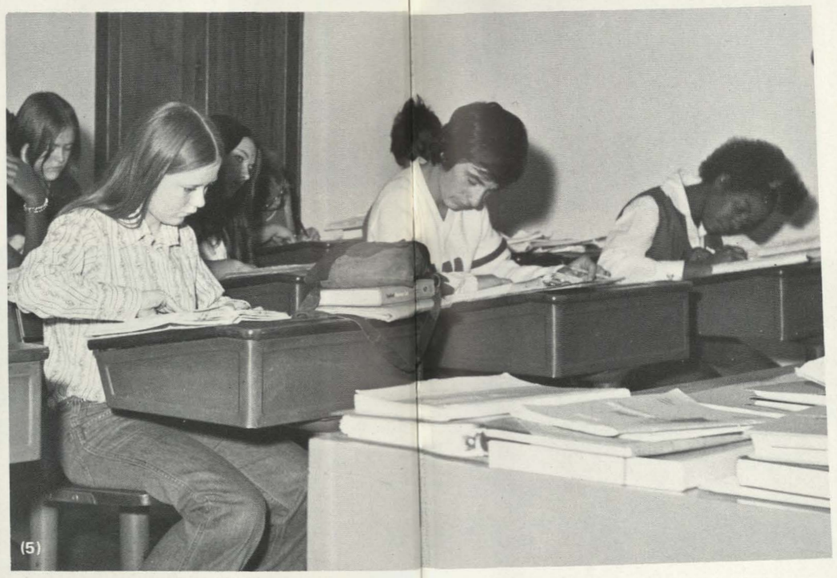
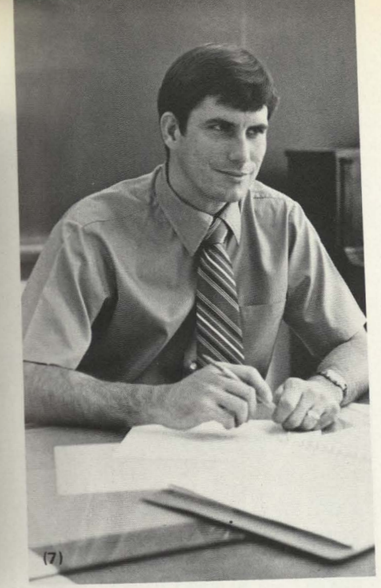
(1) Peggy Lindsay concentrates on finishing a typing exercise before the typing teacher calls time.

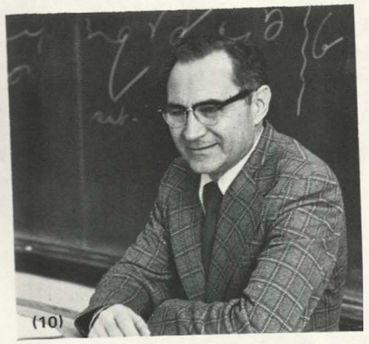
(2) Maurine Thomas, Bookkeeping I, II.
(3) Phyllis Jones, Typing I.

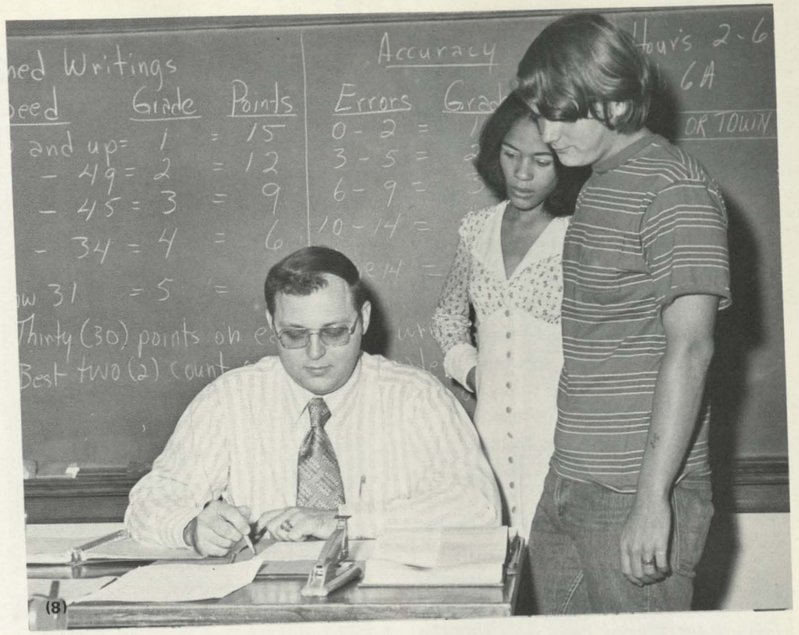


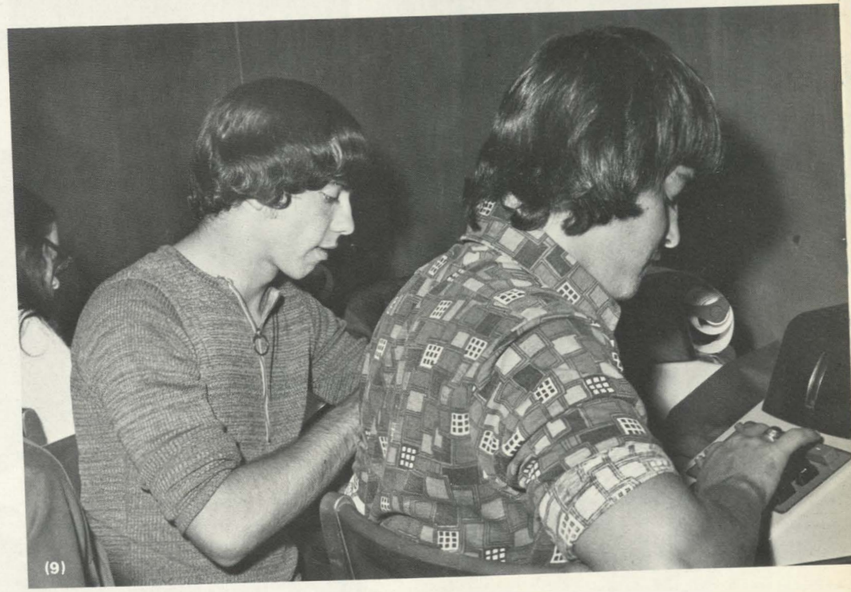
(4) John H. Boyle, Typing II.
(5) Kathy Aye, Brad Anderson, and Rita Alexander work to finish an in class assignment in Mr. Haddock's Record Keeping class. (6) Marilyn Raffety, Clerical Training, Secretarial Training, Business Machines.











(7) Bill Haddock, Business Law, Record Keeping, General Business, Consumer Economics. (8) Typing II students, Oley Smith and Scott Addison, receive helpful advice from Mr. Boyle.
(9) Don Clark and Tim Boyer work on rotary calculators in their Business Machine class.

(10) Lester C. Ramsey, Secretarial services, Typing II, Shorthand II.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Foreign languages provides students with a chance to learn the customs and habits of people of foreign countries. Russian II was taught for the first time this year. Students interested in learning Spanish could take as much as five years of the language. French and German were offered up to the third year level. Some students also had the option of taking a language by independent study.

Dadum um Kycok caxapy. . .oui pappa dinons un ville cesoir. . . Wie spat ist es?. . .Como se llama?

(5) Glenn Schoenfish, German I, German II, German III. (6) Nancy Kossyk and Betty Feltham work at trying to name the capitals of South American countries in Spanish II. (7) In French II and III class, Mary Green works on her paper while Robin Hayes, French III, listens to a lecture by Mrs. Lockett.
(8) Louise Lockett, French I, French II-III.
(9) Kenneth L. Robinson, Spanish II, Spanish II-III.

WORK STUDY PROGRAM

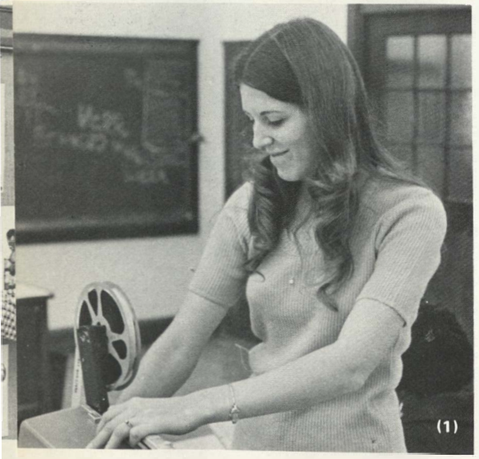
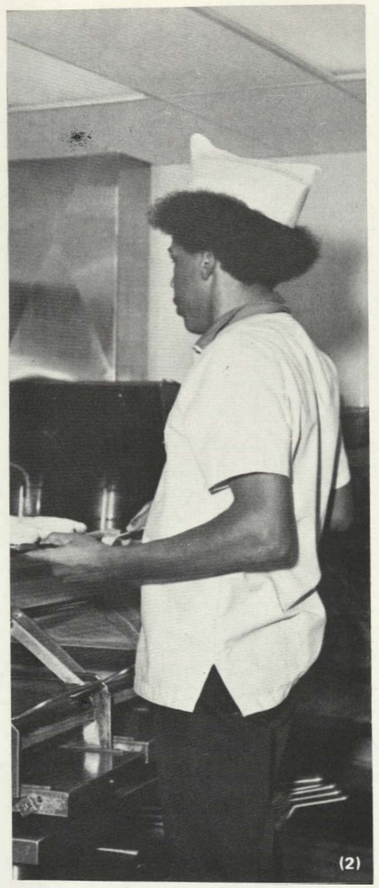
Work Study Units brand new addition to Wyandotte. The Work Study Program aids students in readying themselves for independent daily living. Instruction is geared toward each student's needs and abilities.

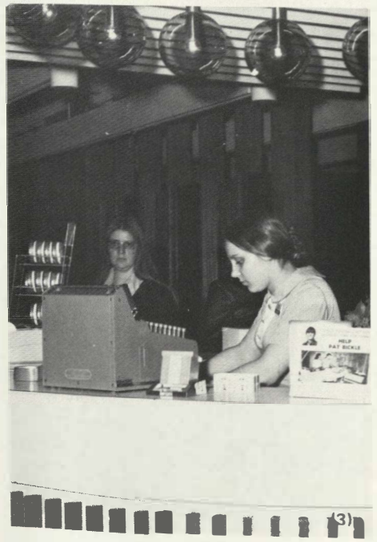
Students concentrate on subjects such as Math, English, and Geography, plus occupational subjects. Each student has their own job.

Mr. Hansen and Mrs. Fitch are the new teachers of these classes.

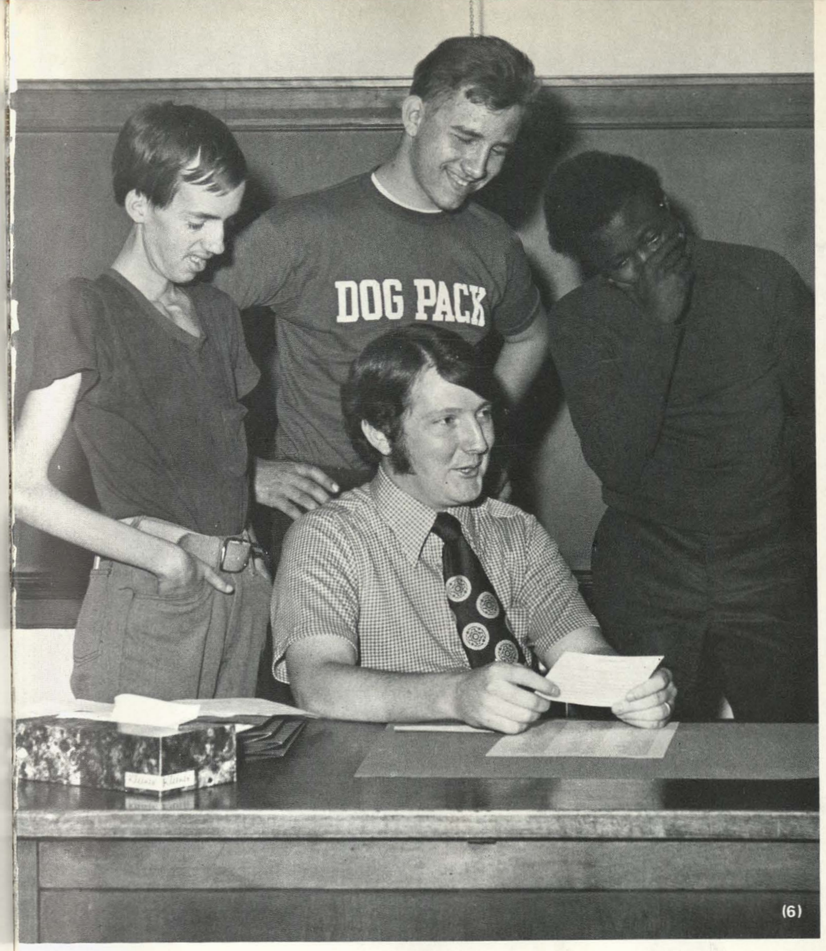
What did my boss say? I can't do this homework, I have to go to work tonight. . .What was our assignment? Hand me the iron. . . I worked late last night. . .Thread this needle.

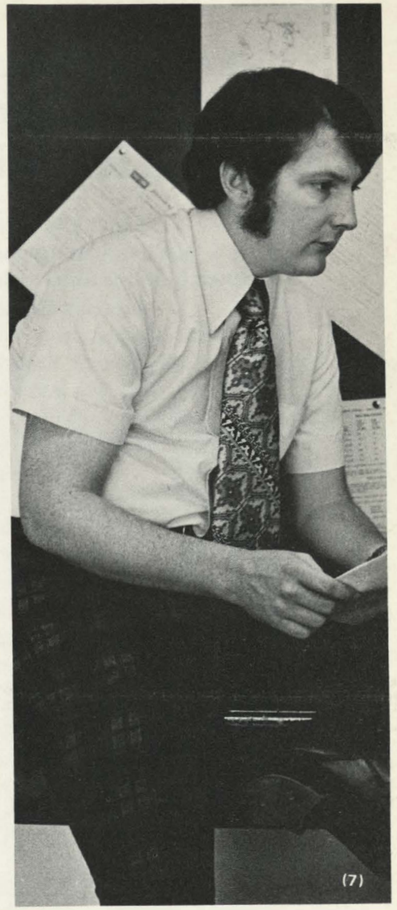






(1) Sydney Fitch, Work Study Program. (2) Back in McDonald's kitchen, Donald Richard prepares some hamburger buns, by getting them ready for the toaster. (3) At the Forum, cashier Suzanne Goodson collects money for the checks from the customers.





(4) At Venture Foods, Monroe Mitchell earns his money by sacking groceries. (5) Out front at McDonald's, Joyce Bassett rings up an order for one of the lunch time customers. (6) Walter Compton, Fred Olszewski and Claudell Hart talk over an assignment with Mr. Hansen. (7) Thomas M. Hansen, Work Study Program.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

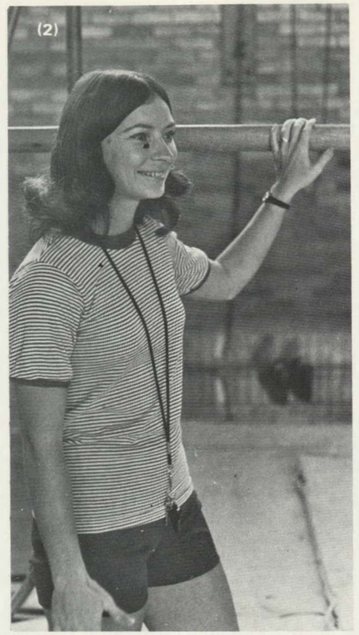
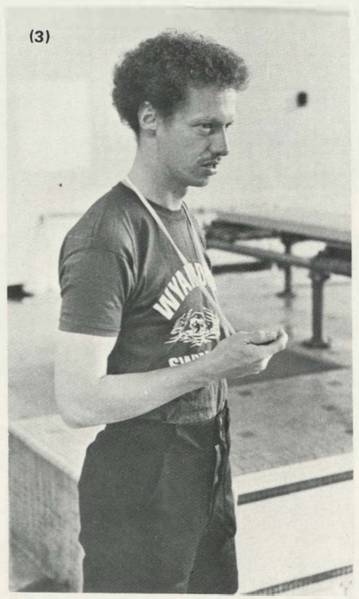
New boy's physical education teacher joined Wyandotte's staff this year. Mr. Daniel taught swimming and coached both the water polo and swim teams.

Girls' health classes, taught by Mrs. Meyers, covered such diverse topics as drugs, cancer and sex education. Guest speakers from the Free Health Clinic visited the classes conducting rap sessions on the topics covered in class. Gym classes taught by Mrs. Allen and Mrs. Adams worked on apparatus and marching routines.

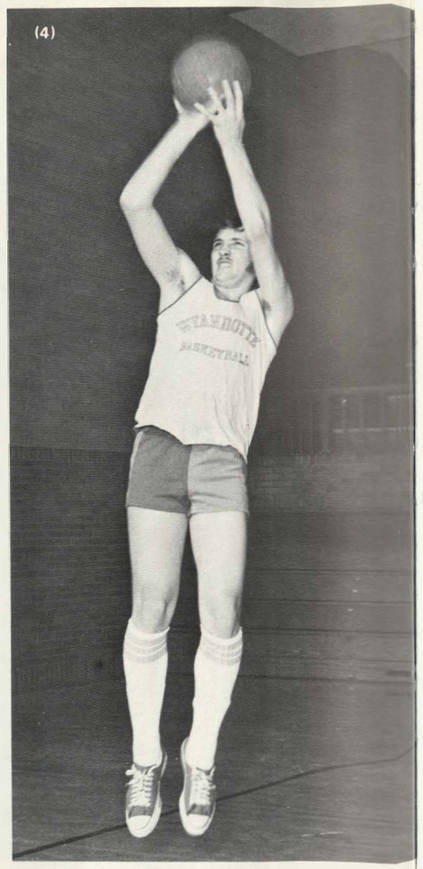
I fell over the horse. . .Back stroke, what?. . .It's cold in the pool. . .Listen up. . .Free day.

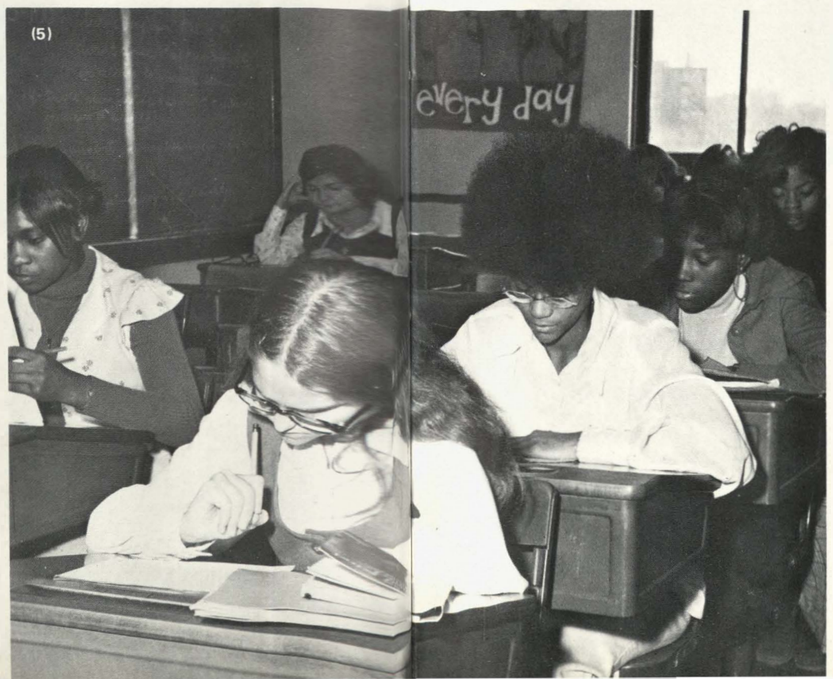
(1) Becki Arrocha does an angel on the uneven bars, the stunt being part of her routine she is doing in gym.

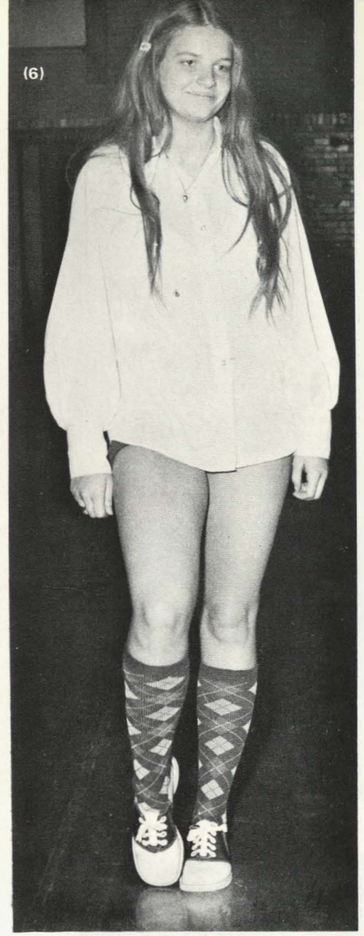




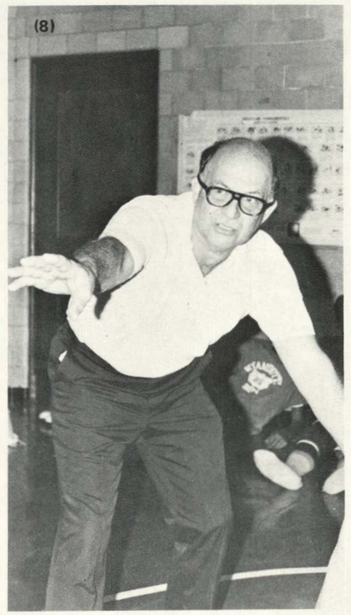
(2) Karen Adam, Girls' Physical Education. (3) Michael L. Daniel, Boys' Physical Education. (4) Senior leader, Steve Novak during one of the basketball games played in gym takes a jump shot. (5) In the health classes sophomore girls listen carefully to one of the lectures given to them by Mrs. Meyers.

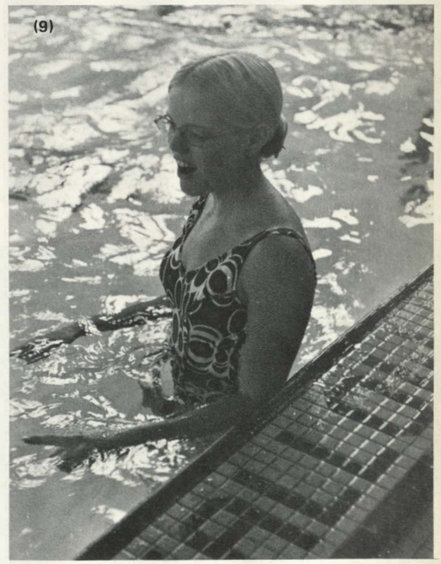


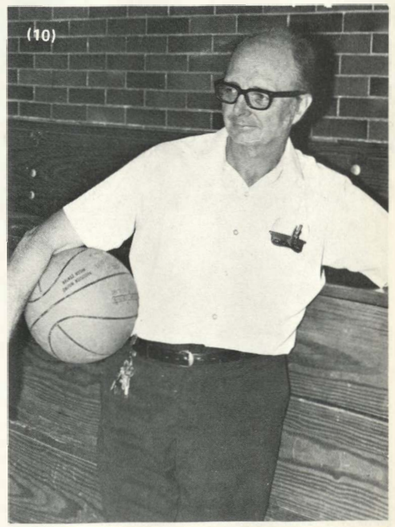




(6) Roxanne Proctor works on her marching routine during sixth hour gym. (7) Nancy Allen, Girls' Physical Education. (8) Donald Kyle, Boys' Physical Education. (9) Connie Meyers, Girls' Physical Education, Health. (10) Orville McHenry, Boys' Physical Education.







PERSONNEL

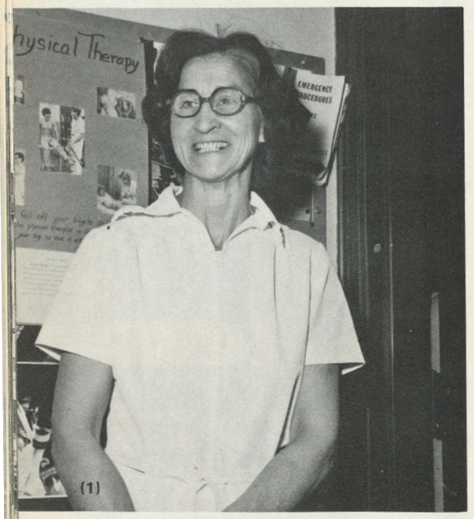
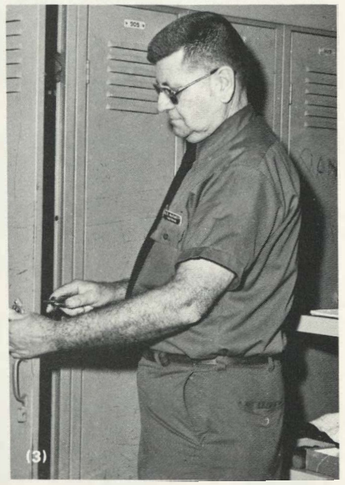
Librarians help by giving information to students for reports and other class assignments. The nurse aids students who become ill and handles medical emergencies which arise in the school day. Maintenance is handled by the thirteen men and one woman who, among various other duties, sweep the halls and mop the rooms. The secretaries take attendance, print the daily bulletin and do general office jobs. These people work to keep Wyandotte functioning.



(1) Miss Burt, School Nurse. (2) Librarians: Mrs. Shienle, Miss Dansby, Miss Norman.



(3) Mr. McCarty, Head Custodian repairs broken lockers as one of his duties. (4) Mrs. McCarty and Mrs. Oyer fold the daily bulletins and place them in the teachers' mailboxes, before leaving work.

(7) Mrs. Davis, Treasurer.

(5) Office Secretaries: Mrs. Oyer, Mrs. Cobb, Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. Schlossen. (6) Custodians: Back row: L to R: Richard Smith, Vernie Wells, Charley Douglass, Robert Ure, Ed Mangun. Front row: Joe Strullio, Gary Husky, Willie Bell, Robert McCarty, Henry Maxwell.

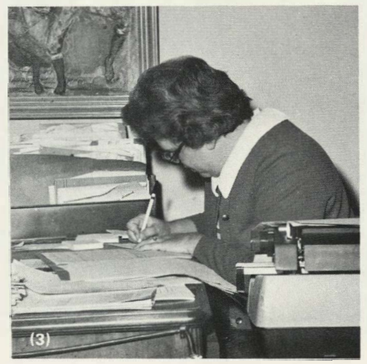
New lunch program for grade schools of the greater Kansas City area. A satellite kitchen was temporarily established at Wyandotte. A permanent kitchen for the program is to be built at 18th and Stewart. New kitchen facilities will allow schools without kitchens to serve their pupils hot lunches. Special education students assisted the new cafeteria help. Mrs. Cline, head of the cafeteria, makes sure the ingredients for the menu are purchased and delivered.



(4) Bertha Heel and Mary Davis work during sixth hour in the cafeteria to prepare the next day's lunch. (5) While students are in class, custodians make sure the halls are kept clean. (6) Mrs. Hightower, the only woman custodian, does her job keeping the school clean.

(1) Janet McCormick doubles as a secretary for the main office and library. (2) Mrs. Cobb looks up information about a student to give to an administrator. (3) Mrs. Schlossen works on finalizing class changes given to her by Mr. Upson.

(2) Lee Gustin and David Anderson are diligently making needed repairs on a car engine in their Auto Mechanics class. (3) Robert Tinch is busily engaged in completing an English assignment during a Summer School English class.

AVTS AND SUMMER SCHOOL

Three new courses offered at AVTS, including Cooperative Industrial Training, Building Trades and Health Assistant. The Area Vocational Technical School prepares students for employment as technicians and skilled workers. Among the courses offered are: Auto Mechanics, Cosmetology, Electronics, Machine Shop, Secretarial Training and Accounting Bookkeeping. Summer School was offered again at Wyandotte. Students were able to take Driver's Ed., American History, Biology and Geometry.

(4) Christopher Franiuk and Leonard E. Fields, Biology students, try to find the weight of an object by using a balance. (5) Peggy Rosson finds pleasure in putting to work what she's learned in Cosmetology, by styling a woman's hair.

PERFORMING ARTS

New season started off by new coach in debate and forensic. The debate topic was "resolved the federal government should employ all employable United States citizens living in poverty." Our debate team attended nine tournaments and the KSHSAA regional arguing both pro and con. Our forensic team attended six invitational tournaments, the KSHSAA regional and state and the Eastern Kansas District NFL giving competitive speeches and dramatic performances. They also revived the Wyandotte Chapter of National Forensic League. Thespians consist of students who enjoy drama and have earned ten points. Points are earned by working on and off stage on plays sponsored by this club.

FRENCH/GERMAN/SPANISH

Spanish Club took first place trophy for their float at homecoming festivities. Activities for Spanish Club included an annual Christmas party with pinatas, Spanish dancing and caroling.

German I challenged German II and III to a game of football at the annual Fall picnic. Plans were made for "Fasching" with other high school clubs.

A skit and carols were the activities at the French Club Christmas party. Plans were made for a French breakfast and French dinner. Spring picnics were planned by all clubs.

(2) Robin Bassett takes careful aim in hopes of breaking open the pinata. (4) In a skit during the French Club Christmas party, Lowell Ghosey, acting as principal, leads the class in carols despite the teacher's wishes. (5) Sam Reed, the teacher in the French Club skit, tells the students they will take an exam before the holidays.

Variations added to "74" Quiverian

by having new names on all division pages. Under the direction of the new sponsor, Miss Susan Edwards, the Quiverian staff returned to the traditional colors of red and white for the cover. A new aspect of the yearbook was additional colored pages. Production costs were met by such projects as car washes, candy sales, selling yearbook covers and personalizations. The 1973 Quiverian received the following awards: NSPA All American and A+ NSYA.

CUBS

Journalism groups prepared for staff

positions on the newspaper or yearbook.

Pantograph cubs were enrolled in a journalism class. They learned the techniques involved in putting together a newspaper. They also sold ads for the Pantograph.

Quiverian cubs gained experience working as apprentices to the yearbook staff. The cubs assisted the staff by typing and turning in picture ideas. The Quiverian cubs attended a spring workshop to learn the fundamentals of a yearbook.

PANTOGRAPH

Weekly paper of student activities

was written and printed by students at Wyandotte. Staff duties included covering all school news and selling advertisement to help finance the cost of typesetting, paper, ink engravings and mailings. To gain more knowledge of newspaper operations, positions were changed at semester. Celebrating fifty-five years of the continuous publication the Pantograph is one of the few school newspapers still publishing on a weekly basis.

MEDICAL CAREERS, SCIENCE

Many interested in an active career

as future nurses and doctors. The medical careers club had guest speakers from the different areas of medicine to discuss the medical field. The club also took a field trip to learn the dangers of industry and pollution. A candy sale was held for the purchase of new clinic equipment.

The science club does experiments that are too advanced and time consuming to be done in the regular classroom period.

Sweetheart dance held in February was sponsored by F.T.A. A St. Patrick's social for March 13 was also planned. Scholarships were given to F.T.A. members who supported the club. Starting out their own fund, A.F.S. sold Christmas cards. Sold annually, the Bells for Peace aided in bringing another foreign exchange student to Wyandotte. A.F.S. members attended a display of foreign countries at Crown Center. Ushers helped at all plays by passing out programs and seating the audience.

CAMERA/CHESS/INDUSTRIAL

Camera Club added to the many clubs at Wyandotte. They discussed basic principles of photography: types of camera, film processing and composing pictures. They also planned to visit a color processing lab.

Chess Club attending a tournament at S.M. East with about fifteen to twenty schools participating. They played dual matches with Schlagle and Washington and planned to attend other tournaments.

Vocational Industrial Club activities included films, field trips and football games.

SPLASH CLUB

Annual swim show ran for three nights

instead of usual two. 'Circus' was the theme of this year's show.

The office of head coach was added to staff. The girls purchased Splash Club T-shirts which were worn to school. For the first time, other money-making projects besides the show, such as a paper drive and stationery sale, were tried. The girls planned a social each month outside the regular practices. One was an overnight camp out in May.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

Girls' League had concession stand for the first time during football season. Money-making projects consisted of stationery and candy sales. These projects helped to cover expenses for the annual Christmas Formal, "Winter Wonderland." Mrs. Karen Adam assumed responsibilities as the new sponsor of Girls' League. A skating party was held during the year and a Mother-Daughter Banquet was planned.

Not another candy sale! What's the theme?

A CAPELLA CHOIR

Christmas tidings sung on television to viewers by A Capella Choir. Music filled the air at Indian Springs as the choir caroled in the mall. They sang for PTA and various civic clubs. Attendance at regular concerts improved, perhaps because of no admission charge and the use of new and modern music. The choir planned to sing at the State Music Festivals. They attended Kansas City, Kansas Community Junior College vocal clinic to learn more about vocal music.

ORCHESTRA

by the use of scenery and lighting to enhance the music. A candle sale provided the orchestra with money to buy new music, repair equipment and to allow free admission to concerts. At each concert those attending were asked to sign a guest book. Mailing donations made it possible for invitations to be sent out to parents and honored guests. Plans were made to attend the State Music Festival and play for surrounding junior highs.

Stop rushing. . . You're out of tune. . .

Selling of candles helped in expenses for new instruments and trips to various festivals for bands. The band participated in two contests: the Festival of Bands which was held in Baldwin, Kansas and the Battle of Bands which took place at S.M. North. The band performed during half time at all home football games. Themes for performances included "Superstar" and "The Seventies." The Wyandotte band also marched in the annual American Royal Parade.

KAYCEES

'Kennel' new name and new location

for KayCee headquarters. Changes included newly-created office of business manager, new point system and new constitution. Seniors wore new vests which made them different from other KayCees. Another first was an awards banquet held at end of year to honor those who received required amount of points. Raising W-flag on game day renewed old tradition. A car wash in August was first time for summer project. Stamp mine first! Not another lei? Everyone YELL. Buy a frisbee?

CHEERLEADERS

New Sponsor selected to aid

cheerleaders was Mrs. Connie Moritz.

The cheerleaders kept busy during the summer attending camp where they learned new chants and cheers. During competition, Junior Varsity and Varsity squads won, among many ribbons, four first place. They also brought the spirit stick home with them as a reward for their enthusiasm and hard work.

BANNERGIRLS AND DRILL TEAM

Ten girls attended a pompon camp to learn new techniques and formations. This helped the Bannergirls in making routines for performances done during the year. Four sophomore girls were chosen to expand the number of drill team members.

The Bannergirls and Drill Team worked hard this summer to raise money by holding car washes and a paper sale.

Put those feet up. Point your toes. Let's all do our stretches. Oh-h-h! Can't you do the grapevine yet?

MAJORETTES/MASCOTS/PEP BAND

Mascots returned to promote spirit

at football and basketball games. The main requirement for becoming a mascot was to be under five feet tall.

Majorettes performed with the band during football season and alternated half time with the drill team during basketball.

Performing at all varsity home contests was the duty of the Pep Band. They accompanied the drill team to their performances at various colleges. They also accompanied the Junior College's team to some of their away games.

DOG PACK, LETTERMEN

New attractions to cheering sections

was the Dog Pack, which cheered at all football and basketball games. The Dog Pack was opened to any male student of the school. The club's first project was selling red T-shirts with the name Dog Pack on the front.

The Lettermen club held monthly meetings which consisted of playing sports. A Lettermen Council was also chosen. A member from each sport was represented in the council. Mr. Bill Perry was sponsor of the Lettermen club.

Competition. . .
I give of myself. . .
whether it be
in the pride of victory
or in the heartbreak of losing. . .
I test myself. . .
competing against someone who wants to win
as much as I do.
I match
my endurance,
my strength,
my ability,
my determination,
with those of my opponent.
In the end,
I will be happier if I have won,
but even if I have lost,
I will have gained something that I would never have known,
had I not competed—
the satisfaction of working towards a goal;
making me conscious of myself
and of my competitors.

CROSS COUNTRY

Jogdogs establish fine season record

by receiving two trophies and winning three meets. Determination provided the momentum needed to capture first place at the Lawrence Invitationals, the KCK League, and the Triangular. Getting the jogdogs off to a tremendous start was JV Robert Palacious with a timing of 10:19.

The managers, Patti Parrot and Ann Noland, "did a fine job," stated Coach Haddock.

Wow! Take a look at this trophy. . .

SWIMMING

Finmen splashed to 1st win of season against Topeka West. The Swimdogs started out behind Topeka West, but later caught up with them (19-19) in the fifth event which was diving. Sonny Janssen, senior, and Mike Overman, sophomore, took first and second places in this event with scores of 162.15 and 160.00.

Wiley Wright, senior, took firsts in the 200 and 500 yard freestyle events. His time of 5:23.3 in the 500 was a new school record.

WATER POLO

New coach, Daniel led water polo men to a disappointing final standing of 0-5. Wyandotte lacked competition, as Washington was the only school still competing this year. Although Water Polo is not officially recognized in state competition, the team puts in as many hours as any state sport. There were five returning seniors this year: Brett Dawson, Don Feltham, Bob Doleshaw, Sonny Janssen and Harvey Colston. Dunk 'em! Look at the funny hats!

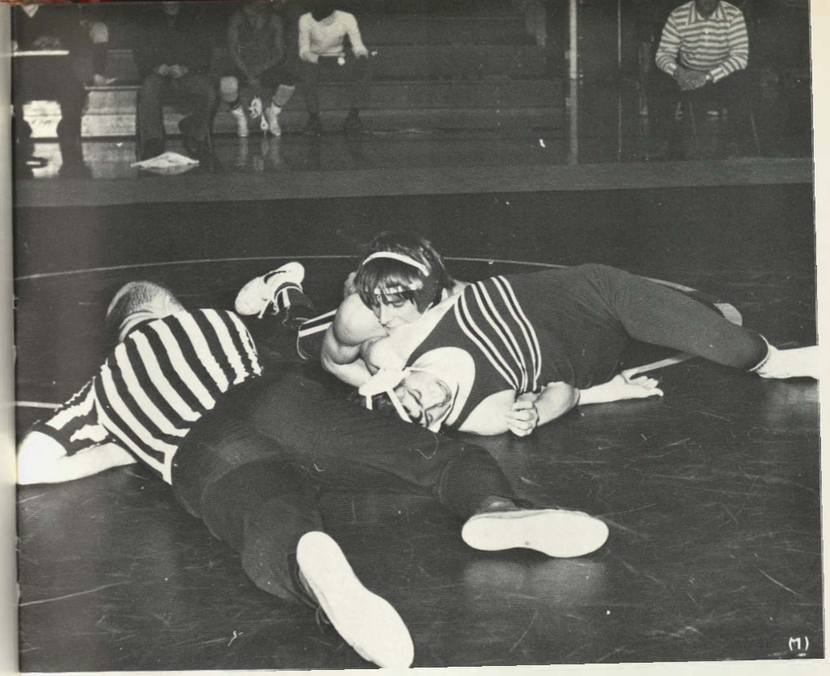
Matt Johnson, Mike Glover, Alan Peeler, and Albert Whitaker participated in the state wrestling tournament held in Wichita, Kansas.

(2) A new addition to the wrestling team were female managers, Dacre Driskell, senior; and Marsha Baker, sophomore.



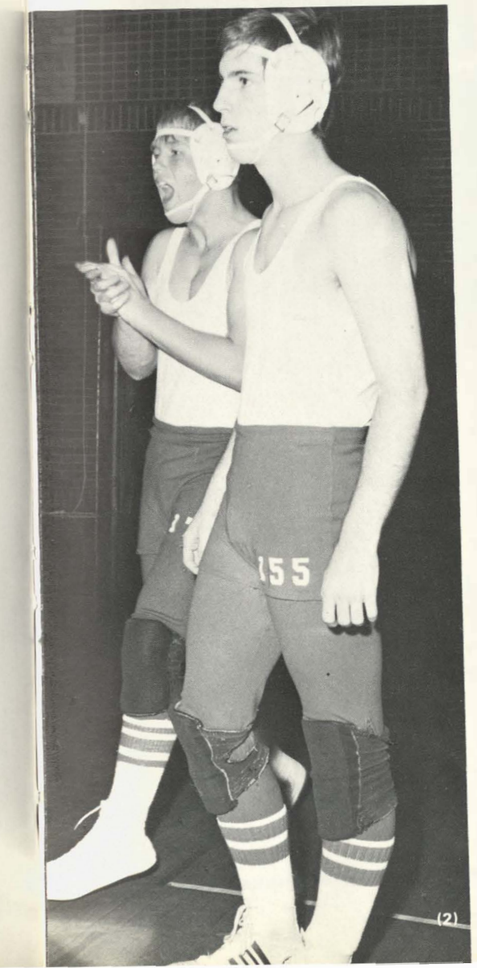
WRESTLING

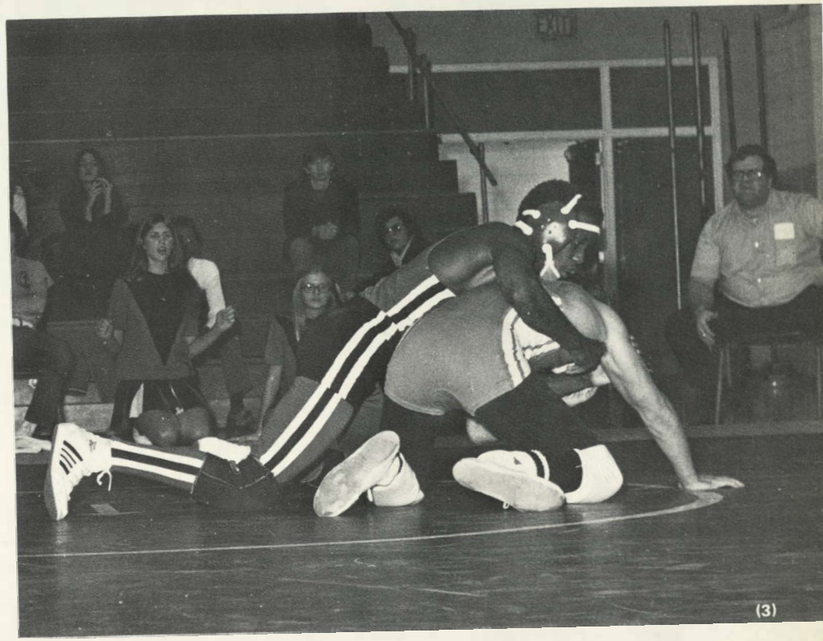
Spartans surrender to Matdogs, 38-20

on Wyandotte's mat. Bulldogs took advantage of three straight pins by Anderson Suttington, Joe Herbin, and Bobby Hale, to get a head start over the Sumner Spartans.

Mike Glover, 185 lbs., pinned his opponent during the first round. Albert Whitaker, 155 lbs., contributed one pin also.

Broken arm in a wrestling meet?! Floor 'em Matdogs. . . It's a referee's decision.





(1) Matt Johnson, senior, struggles with true grit to pin a Washington wrestler at the Bonner Springs Invitational. (2) Two matdogs support their team with both excitement and concern as they stand on the sidelines awaiting their match. (3) Junior, George Suttington, 185 lbs., works from the top on a Bonner Springs opponent also weighing a hefty 185 lbs.

(1) Aiming high for the basket is Gary Billings, (42), as a Schlagle Stallion observes with a deflated ego. (2) Mike Sheffield, (34), attempts a long shot between the arms of a Stallion, as Milton McDonald, (44), looks with astonishment.

(1)

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Bulldogs defeated invading Stallions

with a 71-55 final score. Bulldogs took a 2-0 lead with a successful first attempt by Gary Billings.

Wyandotte led by 5 points in the first period, and stubborn Stallions held them till the half.

Offensively and defensively, Gary Billings led the Bulldogs with 22 points and 10 rebounds. Mike Kerr added 17 points to the varsity effort and Jesse Dale bucketed 9.

"Go, Go, beat 'em defeat 'em!"

(1) With the Indians on a warpath, the Bulldogs keep the fire burning with Milton McDonald's, (44), perfect aim for the goal. (2) The basketball mothers were escorted onto the court by their sons, setting a new tradition on Mother's Night.

(1) With the basketball seemingly frozen in the hoop, the Varsity players look on anxiously. (2) With his great shooting ability Milton McDonald, (44), lines up for another basket, as Gary Billings, rushes aid to his defense.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

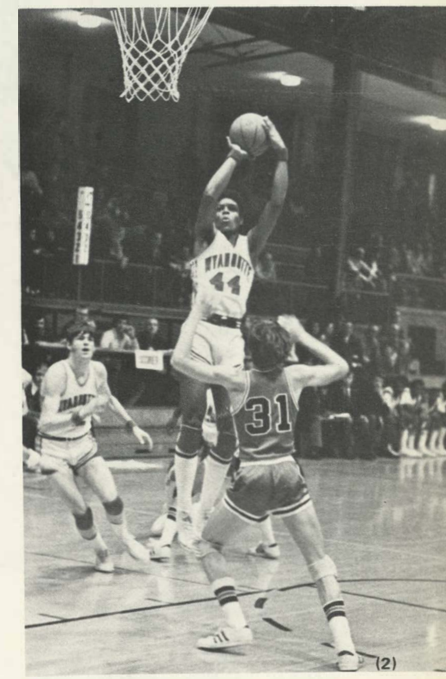
Bulldogs defeated Washington, 60-51, leaving Wyandotte boosters in high spirits. Using a man to man defense and hot third quarter shooting, Wyandotte rolled to a glorious victory over the Washington Wildcats on the loser's court.

Four players from Wyandotte's team hit in double figures. Jesse Dale took game honors with a grand total of 14 points. Milton McDonald and Gary Billings followed closely with 13 and 12.

Jump! Jump! Big "7" little "4"!



JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

"You're too young to win Stallions!"

a cry shouted by most any Bulldog proved its truth with a score of 68-34, our favor.
Junior Varsity had little trouble with first-year Schlagle Stallions. Terry Stewart, junior, led Wyandotte by pumping in 13 points. Junior Varsity used a team effort in almost doubling the score of the Stallions.
We're with you team, so fight! We gotcha unhuh! You'll never win!

(1)

(2) Stopping the opponent's basket becomes a team effort as Charlie Steen (20), Terry Stuart (21), and Nate Robinson (44), join in.
(3) Sophomore, Don Collins, playing JV center, goes for two despite intimidations made by a Harmon Hawk guard.

(2)

(1) Terry Stuart leads Wyandotte's fast break with Charlie Steen (20), Nate Robinson (44), and Carl Smith (50), filling the lanes.
(2) John Wayne steals the opponent's ball to pump in another two points for the Bullpups.

(3) In an effort to defer the opponent's basket, Don Collins uses his long reach to slap the Stallion's shot.

(1) During a brief timeout with the Lancers, Coach England hurries to give the Bullpups a pep talk before entering the 3rd period. (2) Stretching out to obtain two points is a Bullpup cager trying to even out the score with the Lancers.

(1) Dennis Brown eyes the basket, (pg. 181), while dribbling down the court, hoping for a clear pathway to the goal. (3) Randy Wright rushes to his teammate's defense as he steps in and out of his opponent's reach, (pg. 181).

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL

Lawrence contest ended victoriously with a triumphant final score of 62-36. Randy Wright led the Bullpups to victory by pumping in 17 points. Alfred Clark looked strong on the scoreboard with a total of 13 points.

Fred Kelly looked impressive in the Rockhurst game with a grand total of 16 points. Randy Wright and Dennis Brown both contributed 16 tallies to the scoreboard, making the score 50-46.

Basket, basket, basket, boys!

Sophomore Team: Back row: L to R: Elgin Hullaby, Richard Land, Herman Bounds, Randy Traylor, Steve Patterson.

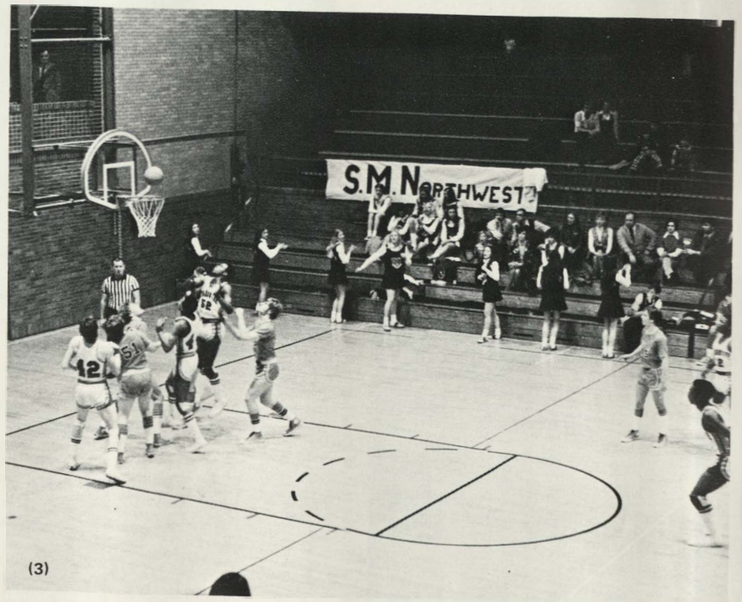
(1) Participating in tradition, Mike Sheffield, senior, crashes through the hoop in the opening of the Wyandotte Regionals. (2) Mike Kerr (20) shoots for the net, unprotected, to add a few more needed points against the Cougars. (3) With the basketball over the net, the two rivals watch with the hope that the outcome will favor their team.



(3)

(2)

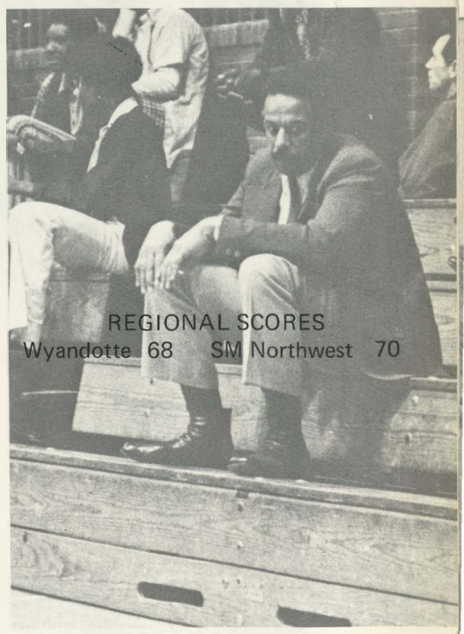
REGIONALS

Cagers hopes were clawed by Cougars

when the score at the end of the sub-state game was 70-68. Milton McDonald scored the first two points of the game. Late in the half, the Cougars pounced on their prey with a score of 32-30.

Near the end of the 3rd quarter Terry Stewart and Don Collins bucketed goals knotting the score 49-all. In the last quarter, Melvin Lee bucketed the Bulldogs' final 2 points.

Break that tie! What's freebies?



(1) Varsity Cagers do a few lay-ups to prepare themselves both mentally and physically for the deciding game with the Cougars. (2) Milton McDonald strains to aim with accuracy for the hoop as Jesse Dale protects him from the opposing Cougars.

GIRLS TRACK

New Athletic field opened for girls

under the direction of Karen Adam. They began their second consecutive year officially in March of 1974. They looked with high hopes to the upcoming season.

During the 1972-73 track season, Wyandotte set two state records. Toni Morris set state records in the 75 yd. dash, and 100 yd. dash with 8.5 sec. and 11.1 sec.

GOLF

1972-73 golf season downed high spirits

however, under the new direction of Bill Fenton, the golf team looked for a brighter season. A great deal is expected this year from this six-man team. During the 1972-73 season Mike Karnaze qualified for the state tournament. He shot 78-79, which placed him 4th in the category of medalist. Last year's team carried a 1-7 record.

BASEBALL

1973 Batdogs had a tremendous season

by winning 17 and losing 7. Under the coaching of George Young, the batdogs placed 3rd in Regionals. The final results of the Sunflower League were 7-5. In the first day of Regionals, our team won over Sumner, 21-2. Another victory for the batdogs was their defeat of Washington 4-0. By defeating Washington, we gained the opportunity to go to state. Exercise!! Build up muscles!!

TENNIS

1973 Netdogs ended the season 3 and 5

overpowering Savior, Lawrence, and SM West. For the 1974 season, Coach Elbl stated, "I look forward to this season because our better players are more experienced and we have more lettermen than usual. I also hope the weather allows us to give the players enough work so that they can reach high individual levels of development." . . .Rack up two points for the netdogs!!! What a day!

Faces. . .
You, the student body,
are the lifeline
of Wyandotte High School.
over two thousand
distinct individuals—
sophomores. . .
juniors. . .
seniors. . .
striving, working together,
to uphold the dignity
of our school.
Pride can hardly describe it. . .
At a car wash,
assembly,
and especially at sports events,
the feeling is apparent.
Tradition—
the foundation of Big Red.
By being a part of our school,
I encounter a variety of races, religions, and people.
Wyandotte reaches out,
teaching me to accept
those who are different from myself.

FACES

In my last year
at Wyandotte
I look back
at the past. . .
The famous twin towers of Wyandotte have been a landmark for 37 years.
Its H-shape form is different from any other high school. The auditorium has presented all types of school activities, plays and pep rallies, concerts both musical and vocal. The rooms accommodate a total of 2000 students. Big Red's campus is beautiful at anytime of the year—spring, summer, fall and winter. Our spacious swimming pool is where the annual Splash Show is given once a year, by the Splash Club. The gyms, which set the scene for many games, echo with the sounds of excitement and sadness felt there. Before school the Social Hall is full of good times and bad times.
As long as Big Red stands
there will never be a dull moment
in its halls.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Sophomores chose 25 representatives which made up a mini-student council. The purpose of the council was to announce, during English classes, upcoming events for the class of '76. Five sophomore girls were chosen to be on drill team because of a shortage on the team. For money-making projects the class had a candle sale and held dances. Mr. Eugene Williams, class sponsor, thought the Class of 1976 proved to be a great success.

Let's go after school. . .Meet you at Taco Kid. . .

(1) Sophomore girls attend sophomore orientation, the day before school starts, to find out what Wyandotte is like.

Welcome to Wyandotte

"The entire building runs in an H-shape, you have five minutes between classes, don't be late tardies result into suspension, don't lose your locker combination, you will eat during fourth period, biology classes are in the center hall."

My sophomore year at Wyandotte. . .
fear grips me
as people bombard me with facts. . .
contradiction. . .
a school built on traditions
yet constantly changing. . .
Big Red is so different from my junior high
new opportunities. . .
new clubs and activities. . .
so many PEOPLE!
My old friends seem lost
in the shuffle of the halls. . .
I reach for new experiences and still longing for the old.

Keep on Truckin' Slogan on shirts

sold by Juniors. This sale, along with other money-making projects, were conducted for the purpose of lowering next year's class dues. Spirit buttons, stationery and candy were also sold by junior class members. Five Junior Board members were elected in the Fall. Two more members were added to the Board later in the year, to give the Junior class greater representation. Spring plans included a dance, a talent show and a skating party.

Keep on Truckin'!!!

(1) Junior Board sponsor, Mr. Tichenor, smiles happily at the results of candy sold by active junior students. (2) Sherri Strickland takes advantage of the remaining snow by jokingly kicking at Dave Paulin. (3) Mr. Tichenor holds up "Keep on Truckin' " shirts for Junior Board Approval.

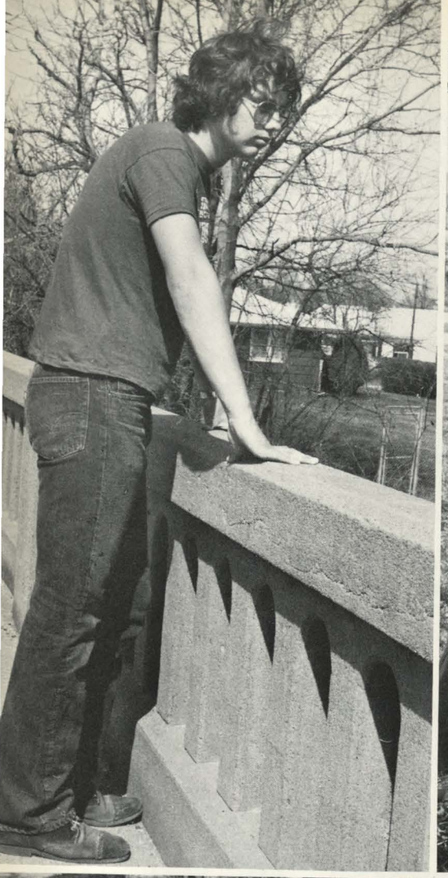
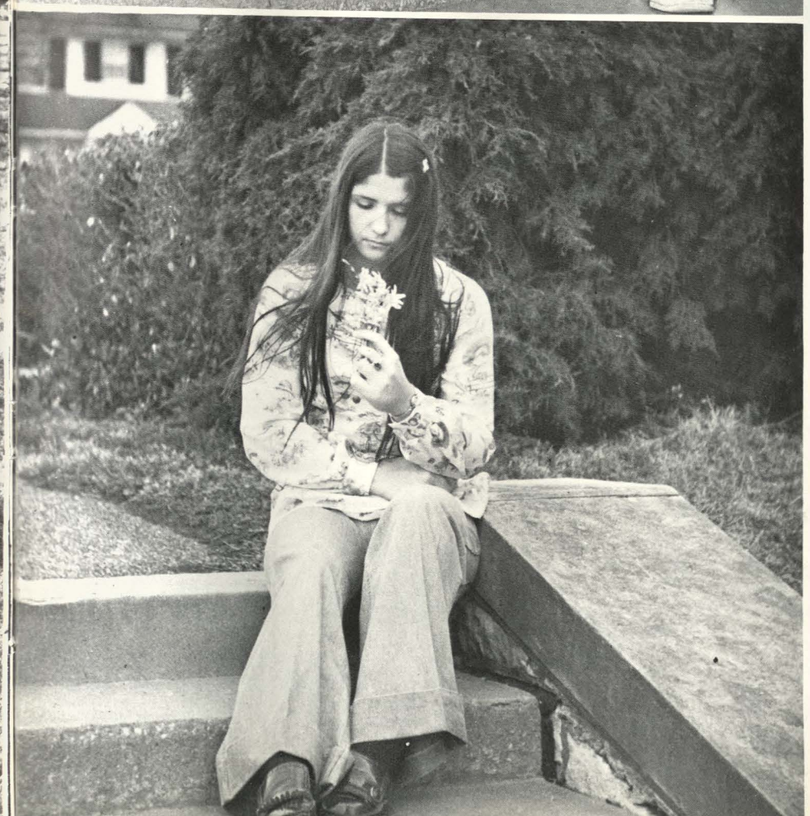
Juniors looked forward to their '75 senior year

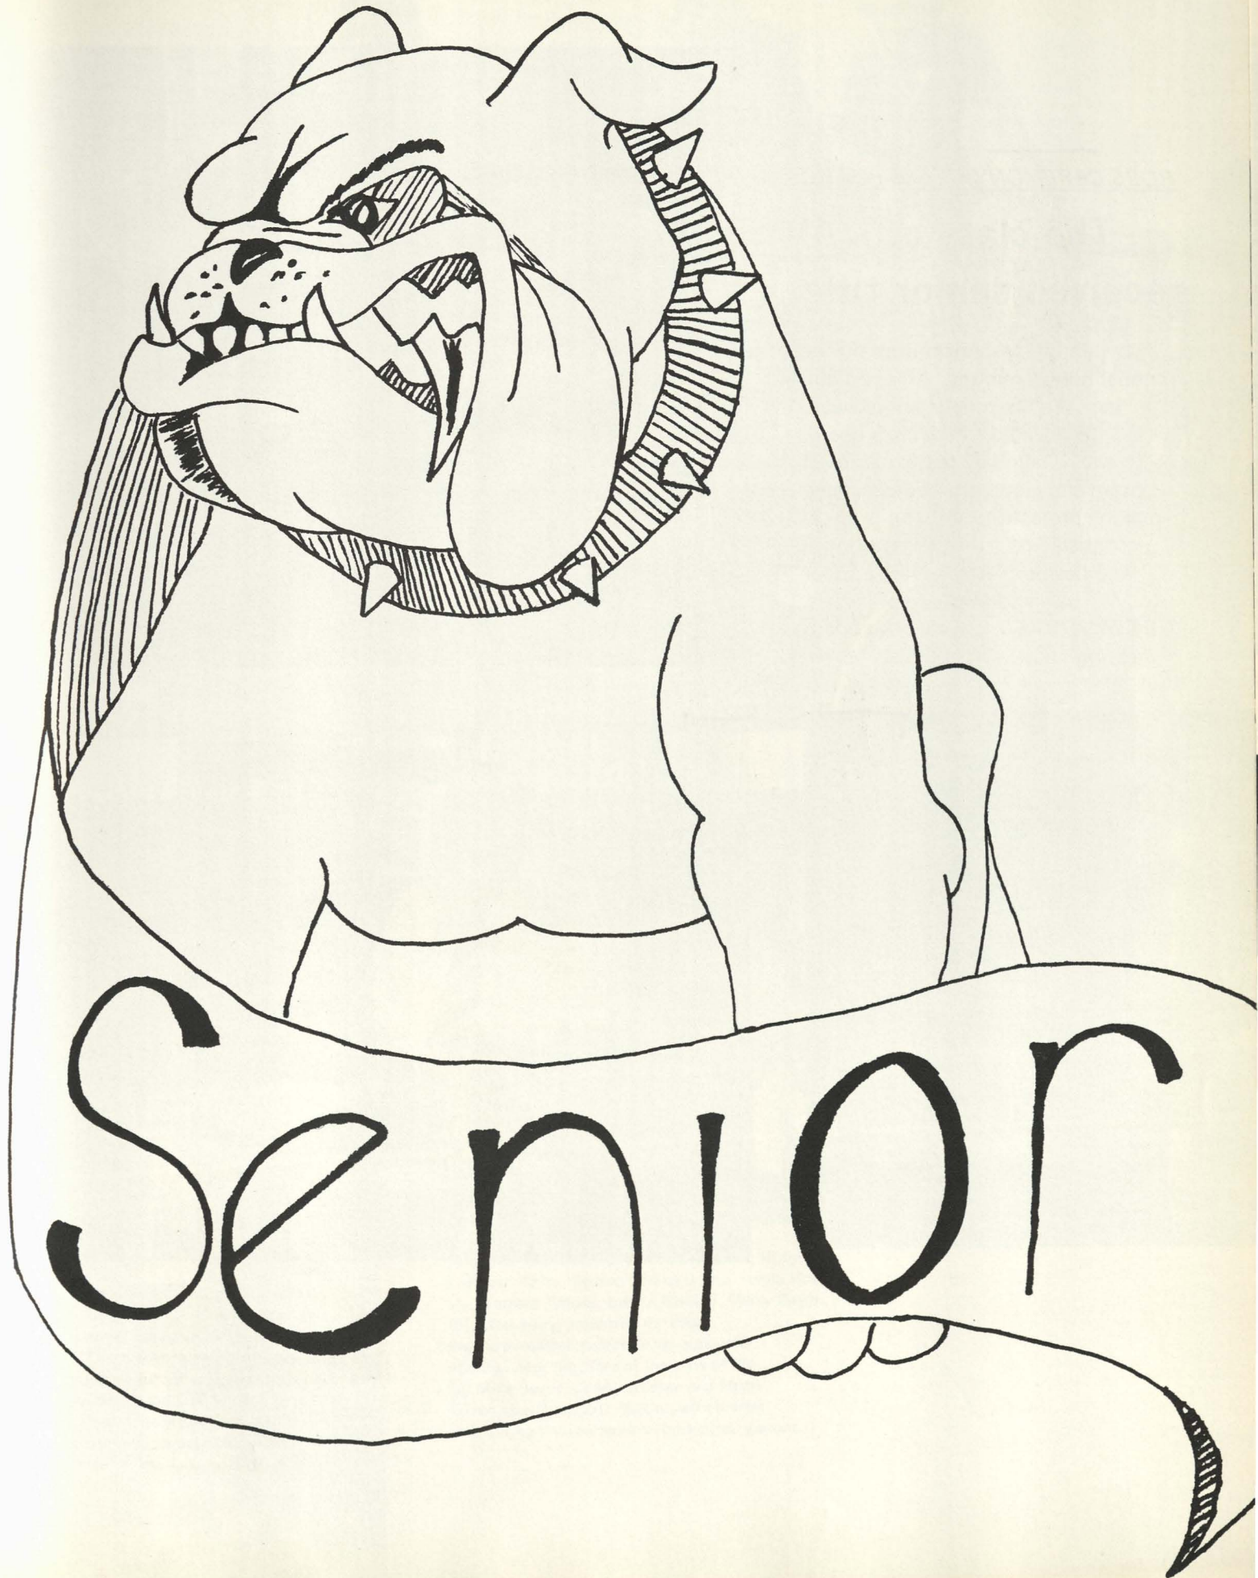
The new Raggedy Ann and Andy fad is displayed by junior, Liz Smart.





Expression is an essential factor of everyone's life. Life rushes by so quickly, that at times, we must remove ourselves from the hustle and bustle around us to stop and consider who we really are. We may find ourselves in a game of football, in a simple flower, at a picnic or in someone else. Once we've discovered ourselves it will be easier to express our feelings. Oftentimes we forget to give a word of cheer or perhaps a smile; we're too busy with ourselves. But really, we need each other, for without people there would be no sense in living. Life is you and I. Together, we make People.

1974



ROBE CEREMONY/CLASS BOARD

The class of '74' received senior title and its responsibilities during annual robe ceremony. After obtaining the title, nine members were elected to the class board. To help pay the expenses of prom and graduation dues money-making projects began. The projects consisted of selling spirit ribbons and license plates, having a paper sale and a couple of socials. GET INVOLVED. . .Executive board meeting. . .Support the class board.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Seniors kept busy preparing for future

and participating in many activities. After school time was spent studying, working, participating in extra-curricular activities and thinking about future interests.

I'm glad this is our last year. Finding a job is difficult. . .Did you go to the game?. . .I got a scholarship!. . .Are you joining the services?. . .It's hard choosing a good college. . .See you at Peter's. . .Have you gotten your proofs?. . .Where am I going?. . .

AMERICAN ABROAD

Leaving Kansas en route for Ecuador,

Marty Green, 1973 American Abroad student, arrived in South America for a three month stay, in early June.

Upon arriving, Marty was greeted by the DeFernandez family. The DeFernandez's had a daughter Geannette and three sons.

Touring the country and meeting many new people consumed most of Marty's time. Marty returned home in August.

What beautiful mountains. . .
Where's my dictionary?. . .
Where did all the time go?. . .

(1) To get a better understanding of the language of Ecuador, Marty looks up a word with the assistance of her sister Geanette.
(2) After returning home to the states, Marty receives a letter from Geanette, which she translates for her mother.

(4)

(3) Revealing many of her experiences and adventures while staying in Ecuador, Marty types up a story for the Pantograph.
(4) Marty shows the geographical regions of Ecuador while Cherie Neal, Karen Walls and Deborah Franklin listen attentively.

(4) Before starting a long day of studying and work, Kirsten and Jill discuss their plans for the day.
(5) Relaxing after a long, hard day at school, Kirsten plays her favorite album.

AFS STUDENT

Kirsten Hansen the new AFS student spent the 73-74 school year at Big Red. Kirsten, a Denmark student, arrived in the United States in August. She became a part of the Robert Anderson family upon arriving in Kansas. While attending Wyandotte, Kirsten became a member of the KayCees and attended school regularly with Jill Anderson, her American sister, and met many friends.

"This is a man's society. . .I love roast beef!. . .Speak clearly. . ."

(2) Kirsten and Jill display their musical abilities by practicing a favorite tune at the piano.

HONORS

Acknowledgement to selected students was given with the presentation of awards for academic achievements. Several of Big Red's students were recognized for honors and scholarships on the basis of their outstanding academic records, the recommendation of their teachers and activities in which they participated, both in school and out of school.

I can't believe it. . .I got the scholarship!. . .See you next Saturday. . .
This is the hardest test. . .
What is a percentile?. . .

(1) Outstanding Senior Boy and Senior Girl were selected on the basis of essays. Robin Bassett selected Mike Sheffield for her essay and Grace Boswell wrote about Susan Turner. (3) Saturday Seminars: Cindy Landrum, Annette Peknik, Kim Toepfer, Robin Bassett, Kathy Buszzard, Marcilyn Strimple, Terry Mealman, Lynn Sedler, Joan Lovitch, Mike Leavell. (5) Terry Mealman was the only greater Kansas City, Kansas area student to be selected for the 33rd Annual Science Talent Search.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

N.H.S. members were announced April 12

with the traditional signature ceremony being held May 7. National Honor Society Members were selected on the basis of character, leadership and scholarship. Academic records, extracurricular activities and the vote of classroom teachers were considered, too. After the ceremony a reception for the 92 members and their guests was held in Social Hall.

GRADUATION

'74' class received diplomas on May 21

in the traditional ceremony at Memorial Hall. On May 17 many seniors from the midwest were invited to spend Senior Night at Worlds of Fun.

Preparation for graduation began Jan. 21-25 with the ordering of announcements. In mid-February cap and gown measurements were taken. Baccalaureate services were held May 19. The halls of Big Red were swarmed with seniors on May 20 for Senior Breakfast and rehearsals. Those were the days. . .

(4) Arnold Vaughn goes anxiously back to his seat after receiving the diploma he has long waited for. (5) Although the ceremony is long, the 1974 graduates sit quietly and wait for the end of the program and the presentation of diplomas.

(1) With the excitement of the graduation ceremony ending, Fred Witcomb, Deborah Wilson, Phil Dixon and Cassondra Holland think about future plans. (2) During the beginning of the graduation ceremony, seniors file into the Memorial Hall auditorium. (3) Now that the ceremony has ended the '74 graduates leave the auditorium.

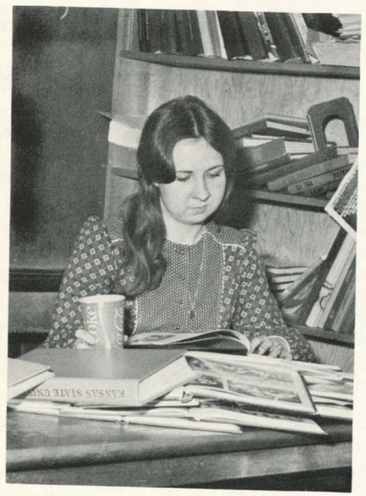
Quiverian presents a book full of pride. . .



Utilizing old yearbooks dating back to 1929, Kathy Buszzard, Editor-in-chief, looks at how yearbook styles have changed and improved.

Pride. . .
we've learned the real meaning Hopefully,
this book will make everyone
feel a part of the pride
that went into it.
We returned to some traditions,
the red and white cover. . .
the arrows,
old, yet still modern
We broke some traditions,
new division titles,
After Hours
for Student Life, Systems
for Academics, Involvement
for Organizations, Competition
for Sports,
Faces
for Student Body, Tremendous effort went into the individual pictures
of the entire faculty.
Notice. . .
the athletic teams pictured,
not in suits and ties,
but in their team uniforms. . .
the many creative mood spreads
in After Hours. . .
the personal attention
given to many organizations in Involvement. . .
the accuracy in picturing all of Big Red's students
in Faces. . .
Appreciate. . .
the extra color in the '74 Quiverian
The staff,
cubs,
and photographers,
worked in the sun
washing hundreds
of filthy cars,
selling sacks,
and more sacks,
of candy,
peddling stationery,
and personalizations,
to pay for
that extra color.
Our efforts
let us have
two color pictures,
instead of only one.
Inspiration
and our theme,
came from folk singer
John Denver's
beautiful lyrics
to "Season Suite"
We built our book
on the lyric
"As different as we are.
we're still the same,"
Special, loving thanks
go to Mr. and Mrs. Olin Wilson, They arranged
over fifty people
in a field at City Park,
for our first color picture.
They fought off
mosquitos
at Wyandotte County Lake, waiting for just the right sunset,
for our second color picture.
They soothed
many a frustrated editor,
and spent precious summer evenings
teaching us photography.
Edwards, our new sponsor,
deserves credit for her dedication,
in learning along with us.
Miss Niki Economy returned to lend her experience
when we needed it most.
Mr. Wes Kurre helped sort out our confusion.
Most important to me,
is the '74 staff. . .
Our friendships. . .
The countless hours we spent working in the yearbook room,
long after the halls were silent. . .
We have shared many things,
the tensions of a deadline,
the frustration of choosing a cover,
the anticipation. . .
A little part of each of us
has gone into this '74 Quiverian,
We are proud of it
and the school it represents.
We want so much
for you, the reader,
to feel the pride too.
